1966 Highlander Dedicatee
Mrs. Margaret Sauer

Energy Characterizes 1966 Dedicatee Mrs. Sauer

Mrs. Sauer joins the festivities at the teachers' luau.

In the lab, in the classroom, or in a group of friends the 1966 Highlander dedicatee, Mrs. Margaret Sauer, is one of the liveliest, most energetic members of the Hi Park clan.

With a zeal for teaching Mrs. Sauer creates a classroom atmosphere of interest and enthusiasm. Mrs. Sauer supplements textbook material with current biological news and findings, labwork, and bug and leaf collections.

Her interests, which range back to college days, include drama, Shakespeare, and language, as well as biology. In her spare time she enjoys caring for her home and garden.

She graduated with a BA degree from Rice University and came to Hi Park in 1938. At Hi Park she has served on the curriculum council and as chairman of the science department for junior and senior high schools.

For her twenty-eight years of advice and encouragement to the young people of Highland Park, the 1966 Senior Class dedicates the Highlander to MRS. MARGARET SAUER.

In the lab Mrs. Sauer instructs sophomores Steve Hazel and Buddy Box on the use of the projector.

Mrs. Sauer takes a down to earth approach to the study of botany.

Supplementing textbooks with extra materials, Mrs. Sauer illustrates the life history of moss on the chart.

"Why do the summer days go so fast?" asked many Scots as vacation months were quickly running out. With such activities as summer school, travel, and jobs, the days from June through August flew by.

Even during the continuous weeks of 95° weather Scots took part in many recreational activities. They could be found swimming in local pools, riding bicycles, or playing tennis.

While the Golden Avalanche began practices in mid-August, the pep rally committee was busily making spirit posters and banners to boost support during the coming season.

Many students improved their sales technique while selling ads for the Highlander and Bagpipe. Others worked at construction jobs, office jobs, and as counselors at camps.

With the "clash, bam, clash" of construction of the new boys' gym in the background, many Scots, aspiring to widen their knowledge, attended eight weeks of summer school. In July a few Hi Park representatives attended the week-long Student Council Workshop at SMU, designed to help students get a better understanding of how their council works. The cheerleaders also spent a week on campus in August preparing yells for the coming year.

Waving the victory stick, Scot cheerleader Arthur Terry urges the Scots on to victory.

Band members Jim Smith, Steve Otstott, and Roland Parker decorate caravan buses for the Paschal football game.

Football Activities Dominate Month of September

Victory apples, enthusiastic crowds, a tense dressing room, a blue and gold victory stick . . . At Highland Park as all over America September means football.

How many different activities go into a football game? Hours of effort on the part of the team, beginning in August with running camp —days of preparation by band members and Lassies for pep rallies and half-time performances—regular practice sessions by cheerleaders—meetings of pep rally committee members . . . All these ingredients add up to a winning team on the field on Friday nights.

September also means "getting acquainted" for new sophomores and transfers who face a new school, a new atmosphere, new teachers, and new friends. Hi-Lite members honored their "little sisters" with a picnic at Williams Park. During Howdy Week the Student Council and Hi-Lites encouraged Scots to welcome all new students to Hi Park. The band and Lads and Lassies' picnics provided an opportunity for members to become better acquainted.

Co-captain Don Johnson leads a proud team forward to accept victory apples from Coach Jones.

"Coach, you mean you want me to go in there?" asks David Bagwell, offensive end on the Golden Avalanche.

Announcer Joe Dealey introduces The Highland Park Lassies to the crowd at Highlander Stadium.

During the last-minute rush on Highlanders, Jay Lawrence purchases his '66 annual from Mr. Kidd.

"These cards must not be torn, bent, destroyed, or otherwise mutilated," instructed Mr. Howard over the public address system, as Hi Park's students received the new data processing report cards for the first time.

October not only brought the customary witches and goblins, but also Highland Park's first anxiously-awaited holiday—high school day at the State Fair. The holiday proved to be a big one for most Scots, because Hi Park defeated arch-rival Garland 15-0.

Students interested in journalism attended the annual Southwestern Journalism Forum at SMU. The internationally known war correspondent Hal Boyle lectured on the many opportunities in the world of journalism.

Late in October a group of educators from all over the state visited classrooms to evaluate the Highland Park schools for the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. At the American Field Service Assembly the exchange students and their American families were presented. During the week AFS bonds were sold in classes to help support the many foreign students living in this country.

"Please, just one to a customer," warns a friendly neighbor.

HP Swimming Teams Present 'Rainbow on Water'

As the second six weeks came to a halt, Scots, sharing apprehension with thousands of quivering turkeys, waited for the ax to fall. However, the nearness of report card day did not dampen the Thanksgiving holiday spirit.

Accompanying the colorful autumn days were a myriad of school activities. "Christian Dynamics for Young People" was the theme of this year's Religious Emphasis Week. Scots heard speeches from Dr. E. C. Rowand, Dr. Tom Shipp, and Dr. Herbert Howard. To climax the week the Lads and Lassies Choir presented their first assembly under new director Mr. Don Timberlake.

Sports events moved at a swift pace in November. Immediately following the last football game, basketball season began. The track team held morning practices, and the boys' and girls' swimming teams jointly presented "Rainbow on Water."

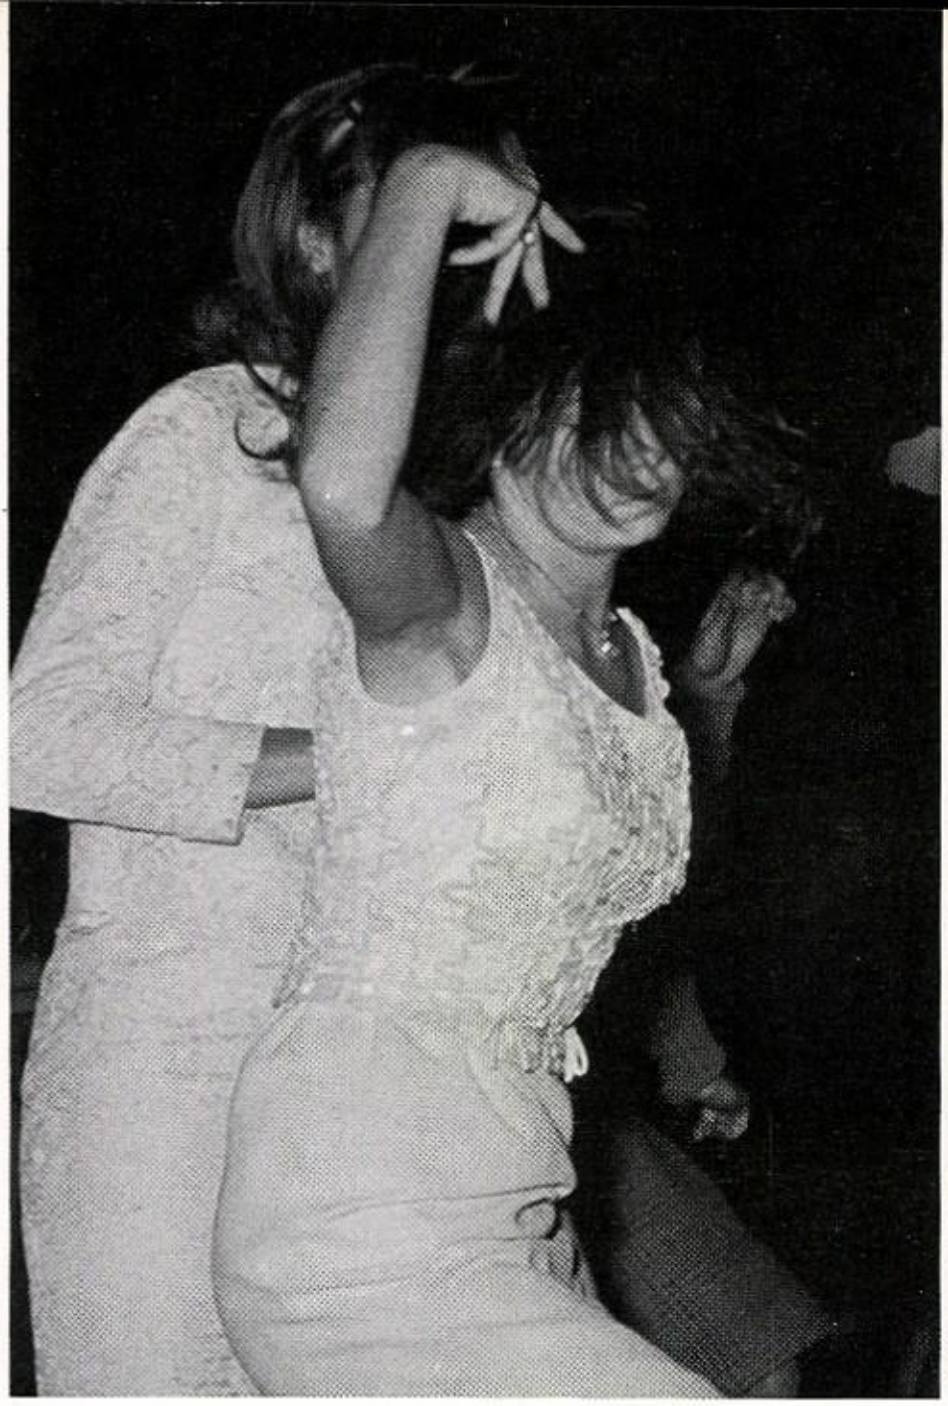
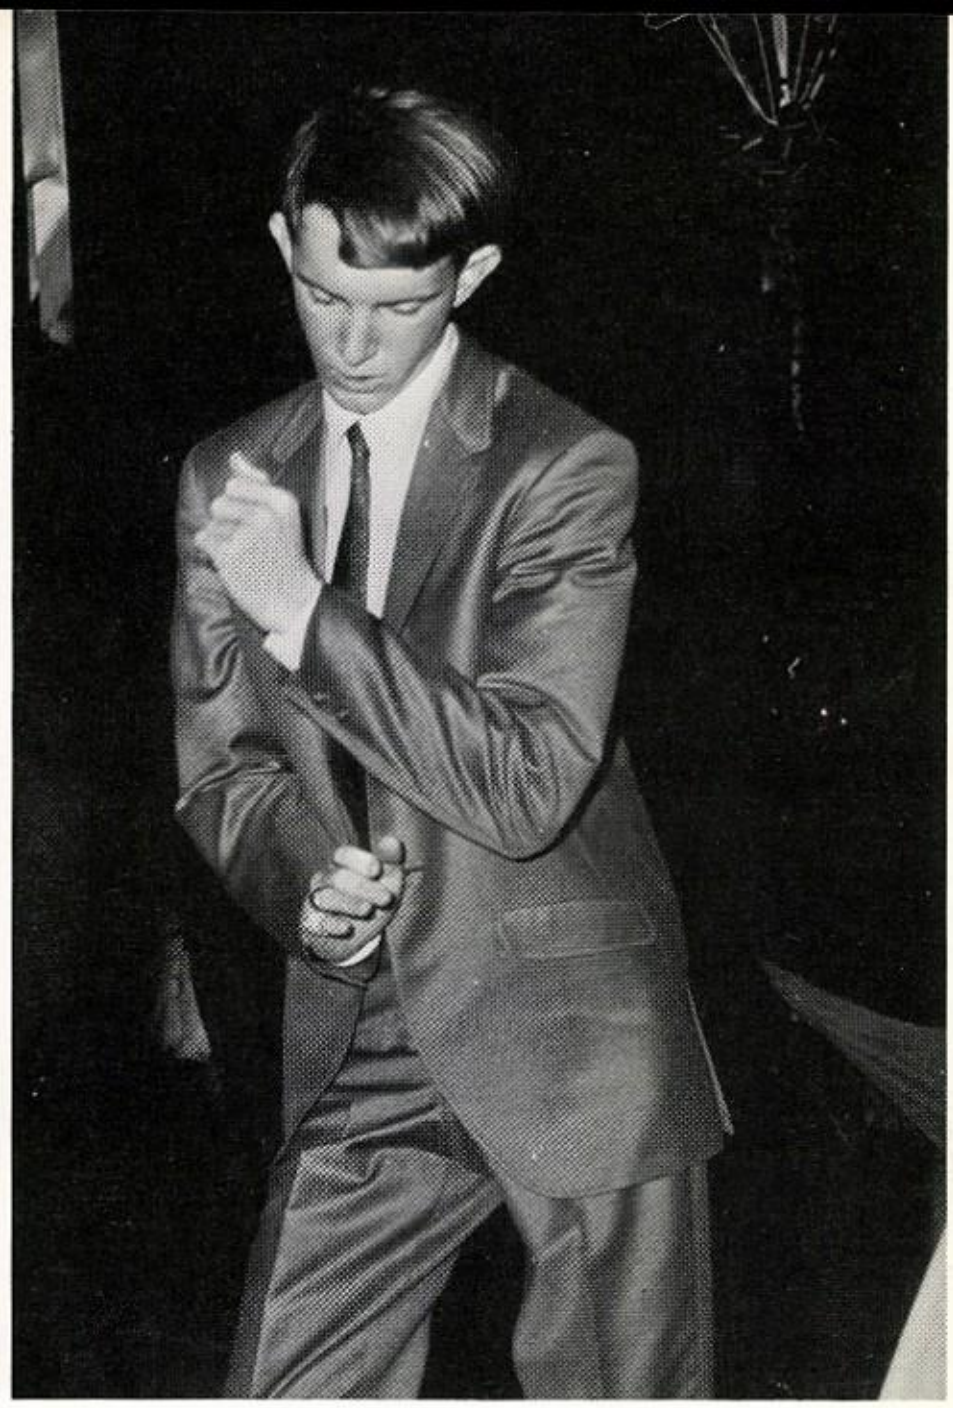
Festive Parties, Dances

Finding only unseasonably warm temperatures on the home scene, many active Scots with a taste for snow and ice ventured out during Christmas holidays to try their skills at skiing in Colorado or New Mexico. They ignored ominous warnings of broken bones, chills and fever, to swarm the mountain slopes.

The atmosphere of the slopes was brought to H. P. at the Hi-Lite Swiss ski party. Reigning over the student council "Santa-A-Go-Go" dance was "Santa" Shan Martin, aided by a troupe of Christmas elves. The band dance's theme, "Kaleidoscope Christmas" was carried out in decorations such as a disc of colored lights and glistening Christmas trees.

The holiday season took on a deeper meaning as the Lads and Lassies, Highlandaires, and orchestra presented their annual Christmas program. Anthems such as "And the Glory" and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah carried their message of the true Christmas spirit to Scots and their parents.





Suzanne Rogers and Dale Hastings display their proficiency in dancing to the music of the "Townsmen".

HP Students Fight Mobs to See Semester Grades

Construction worker surveys the new boys' gym as it approaches the stage of completion.

When the administration announced that semester averages would be posted on bulletin boards in the girls' gym at one-thirty on the Friday after exams, they had not expected three-fourths of the student body to show up at one twenty-nine.

The inevitable results resembled a bargain sale. Some students had to wait outside the gym an hour before getting in to see their grades. Most Scots agreed, however, that the sheer sport of combat added novelty to a usually routine occurrence.

Scots received a surprise package after exams—snow. They took advantage of a no-homework Friday to throw snowballs and build snowmen.

Not even snow could stop Scots from supporting the basketball team in its district games. At the pep rally, the team announced Sally Graham as this year's basketball queen.

At the football banquet, however, seniors realized that juniors would soon be the school leaders when next year's captains Jim Crosland and Jim Dyer were introduced.

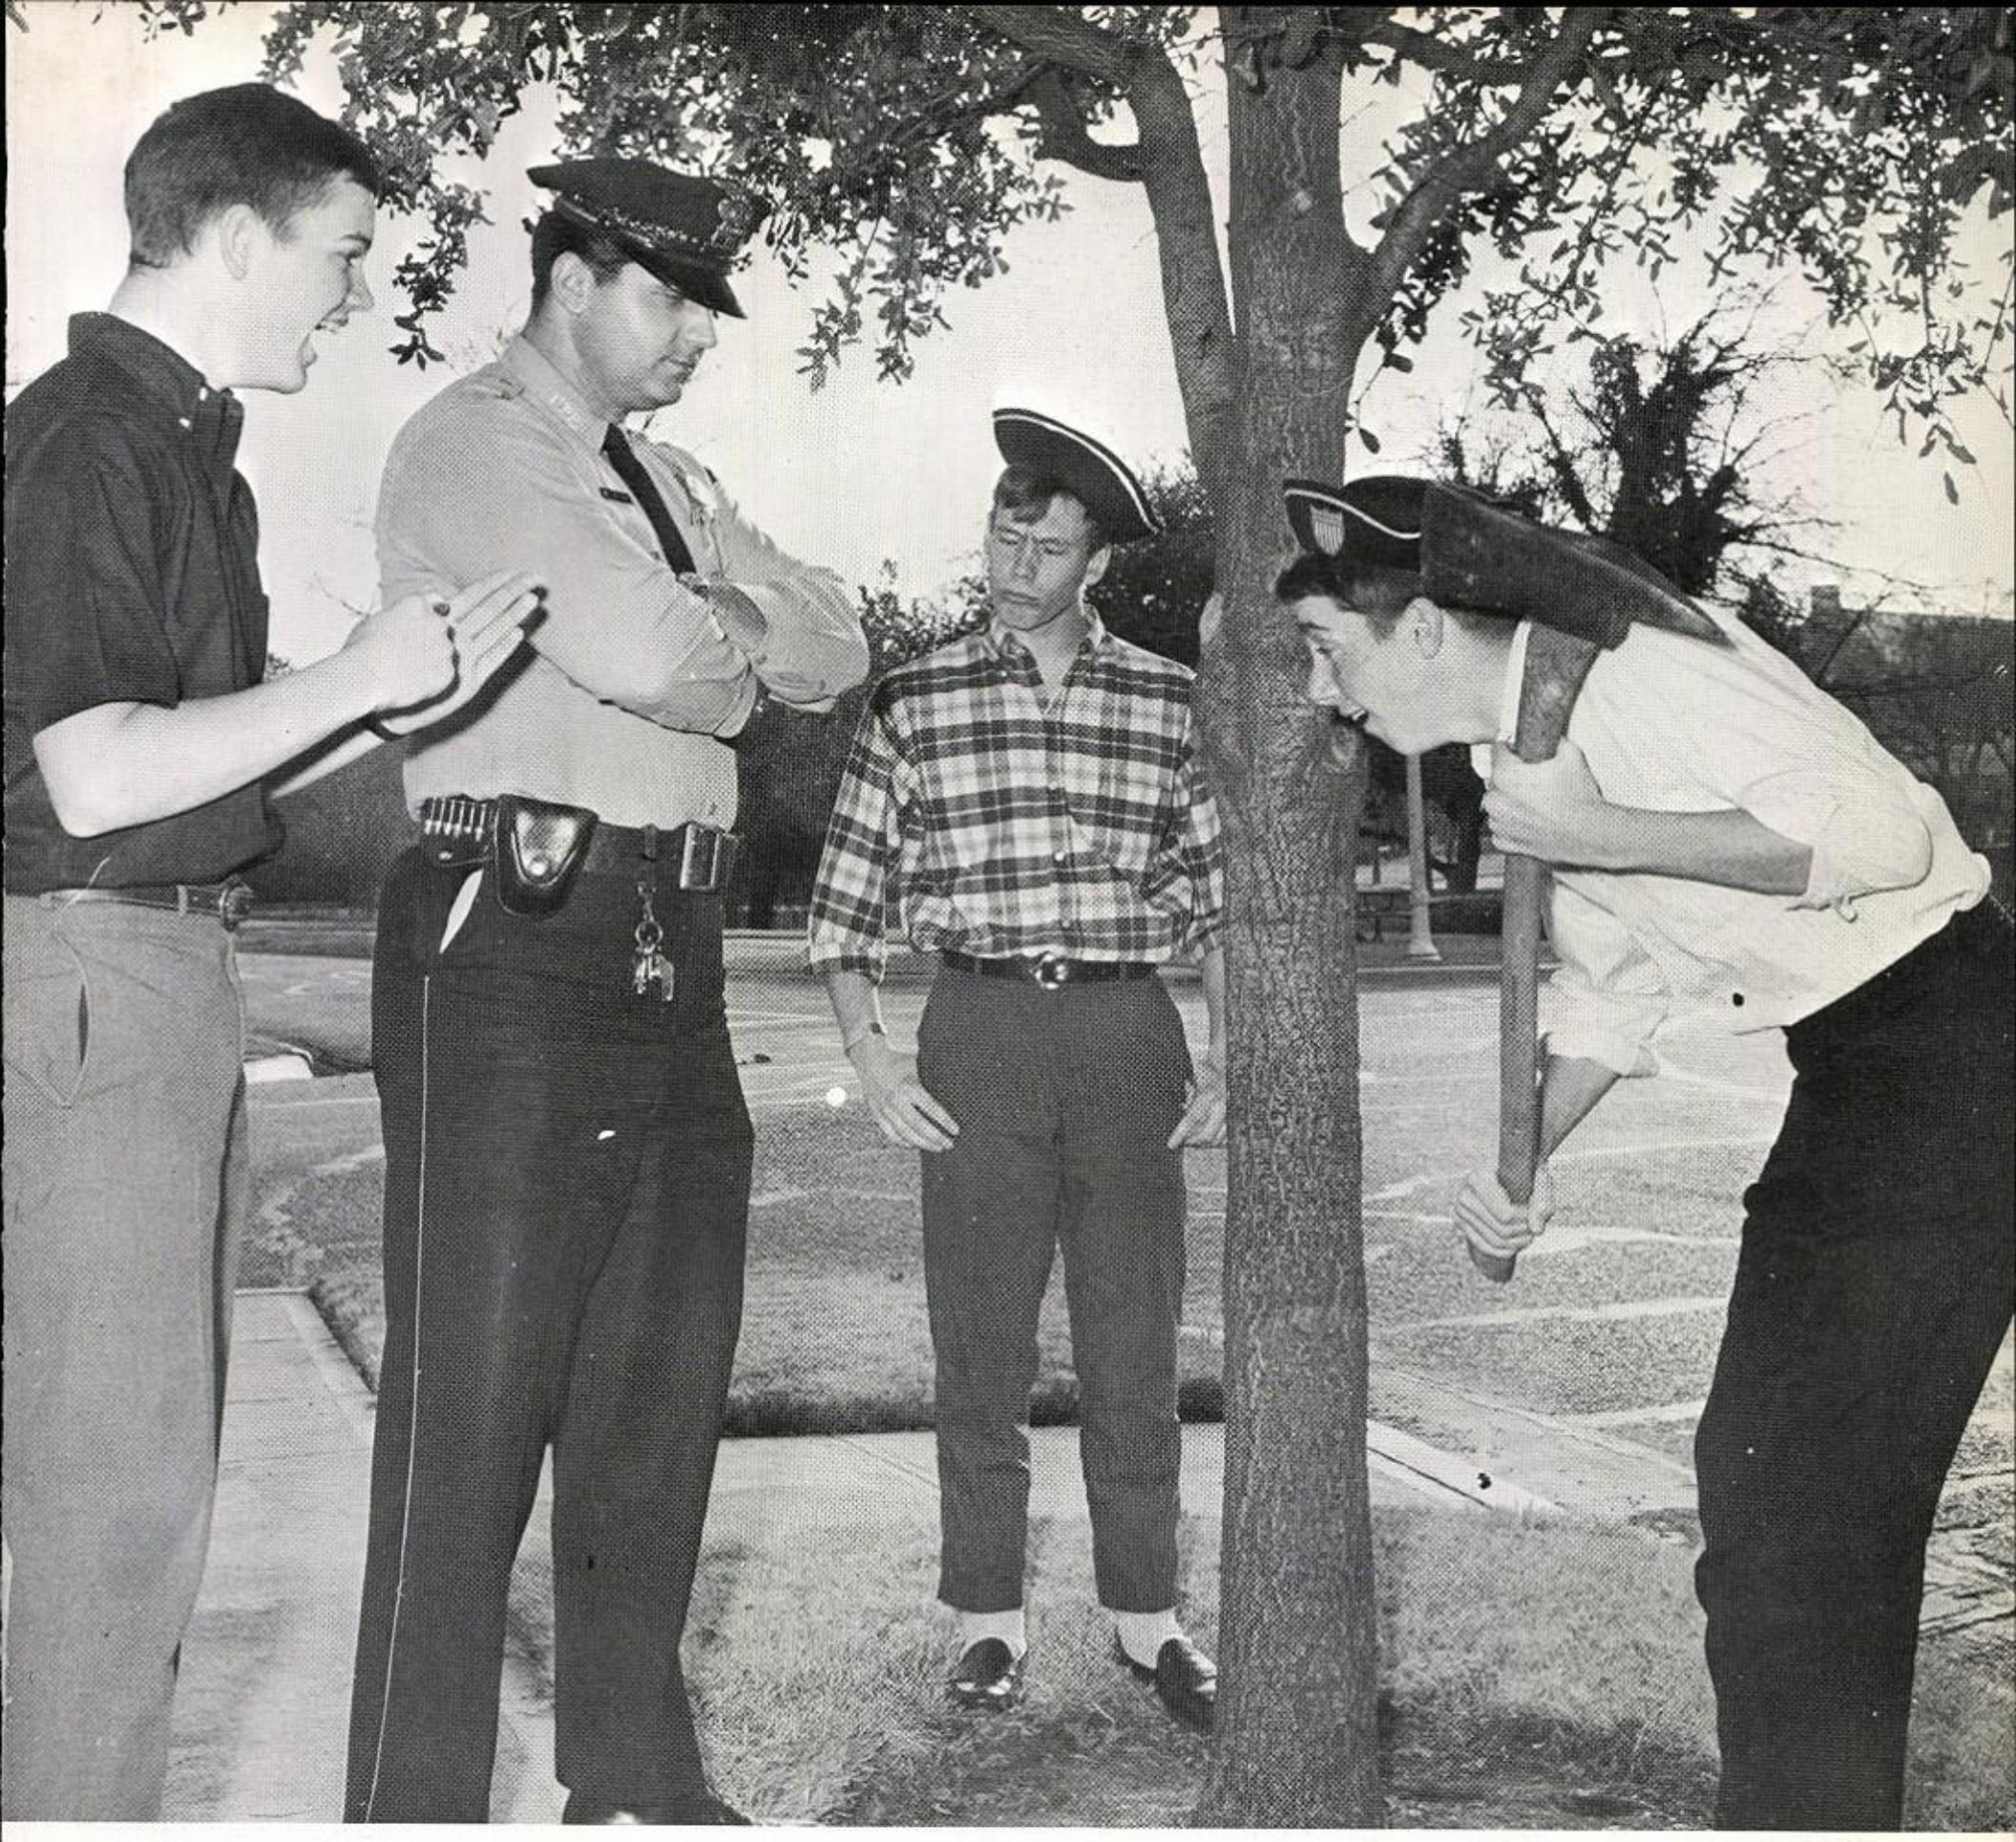
Valentine's Day Program Features Flowered Heart

"The Sweetheart Tree" sets the mood for the Highlandaires Valentine program.



"By George, it's not even a cherry tree!" exclaims Buddy Steele to Officer Cheyenne Newton on behalf of his friends Thom Spitler and Jud McCormack.

HP Sophomores Follow First President's Example

From the time the groundhog saw his shadow on February 2, Scots anticipated a long winter. Ice, snow, and cold rainy days confirmed this prediction. The bad weather made practice difficult for spring sports although by the end of the month Scots enjoyed a couple of springlike week-ends.

To celebrate Valentine's Day with traditional sentimentality, the Highlandaires presented their spring program, featuring such popular songs as "The Sweetheart Tree."

A February birthday besides those of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington created a sensation in the Lads and Lassies room. With bubble gum cigars choir members celebrated the birth of John Paul, son of Director Don Timberlake.

At the Military Ball, decorated to the theme of "Furlough in Saigon," Susan Northrup was crowned ROTC Queen. After a drill team performance in her honor, guests danced to the music of the Mustang Dance Band.

Select 43 Scots for Membership in Hall of Fame

Secretary Betty Cotton assigns the lunch blessings at a Student Council meeting.

Photographers willing to take pictures any time of day or night, dance committee chairmen traveling all over Dallas hunting for decorations, inexhaustible publications staff members working until two o'clock in the morning—these people and others like them make up Highland Park's Hall of Fame.

In the spring sponsors of the Student Council, Bagpipe, Highlander, and Pep Rally Committee selected deserving students for work "above and beyond the call of duty." Eligible to receive the Maximum Officer's Award were the president and secretary of the Student Council, and the editors and business managers of the Bagpipe and Highlander. Gold "H", Silver "H", and Honorable Mention awards were given to other distinguished workers. Maximum Officers and Gold "H" winners received gold charms; Silver "H" recipients were awarded silver charms.

At the Honors Day Assembly the senior members of Hall of Fame were introduced, but the 10 underclassmen were not announced until distribution of Highlanders.

Years of Participation in Hi Park Clubs, Athletics

Scot cheerleaders lead the Golden Avalanche onto the field before the first district game.

Scot Cheerleaders Create New Cheers, Costumes

With a new mascot, new cheers, and new costumes the 1966 cheerleaders worked hard to boost Scot spirit.

Ed Mercer, little brother of cheerleader Marilyn Mercer, was the first boy to serve as mascot at Hi Park in several years. Along with a new type of saddle oxford and white skirt, Scot cheerleaders presented such new cheers as "Thunderation" and "Time."

Hi Park's cheerleaders attended a workshop at Southern Methodist University from August 15-20. Besides attending tumbling classes and lectures, the cheerleaders entered competition against other groups from all over the state.

The six cheerleaders were elected the previous spring by the student body. Miss Jayne Murchison and Mrs. Gynne Manson served as co-sponsors of the group.

Arthur Terry, Marilyn Mercer, Miss Jayne Murchison, Bart Stephens, Head Cheerleader Jenny Ferguson, Mrs. Gynne Manson, Steve Burton, Judy Bower, and mascot Ed Mercer.

Rainy weather which caused girls' hair to droop and forced Scots to bring out their umbrellas at the Homecoming game against the Richardson Eagles did not dampen the spirits of the Golden Avalanche as they fought to win by a score of 27-14.

At half-time the nominees for Homecoming Queen were introduced and led onto the field by their fathers. At the dance afterwards Scots danced to the music of "The Outcasts" in the girls' gym, which had been decorated with the theme "Scotland Scramble." Student Council members decorated the baskets with heraldic crests bearing each nominee's name. When Homecoming Queen Marilyn Mercer was announced by Principal C. D. Bowlby, she was seated on a throne draped with tartan plaid.

Overcome with joy and surprise, Homecoming Queen Marilyn Mercer accepts her bouquet of roses from co-captain Deryl Comer.

Foreign Students Show Interest in Music, Drama

Molly Steele returns home from Peru complete with llama, poncho, native hat, and beads from Cuzco.

"Walk together, talk together, O ye peoples of the earth;

For then and only then shall ye have peace."

In accordance with the motto of the American Field Service, Highland Park presented assemblies and club programs to acquaint students with life in a foreign country. The year began with an A.F.S. assembly in the fall and continued with A.F.S. students speaking to the Travel, Future Teachers', Spanish, and French Clubs.

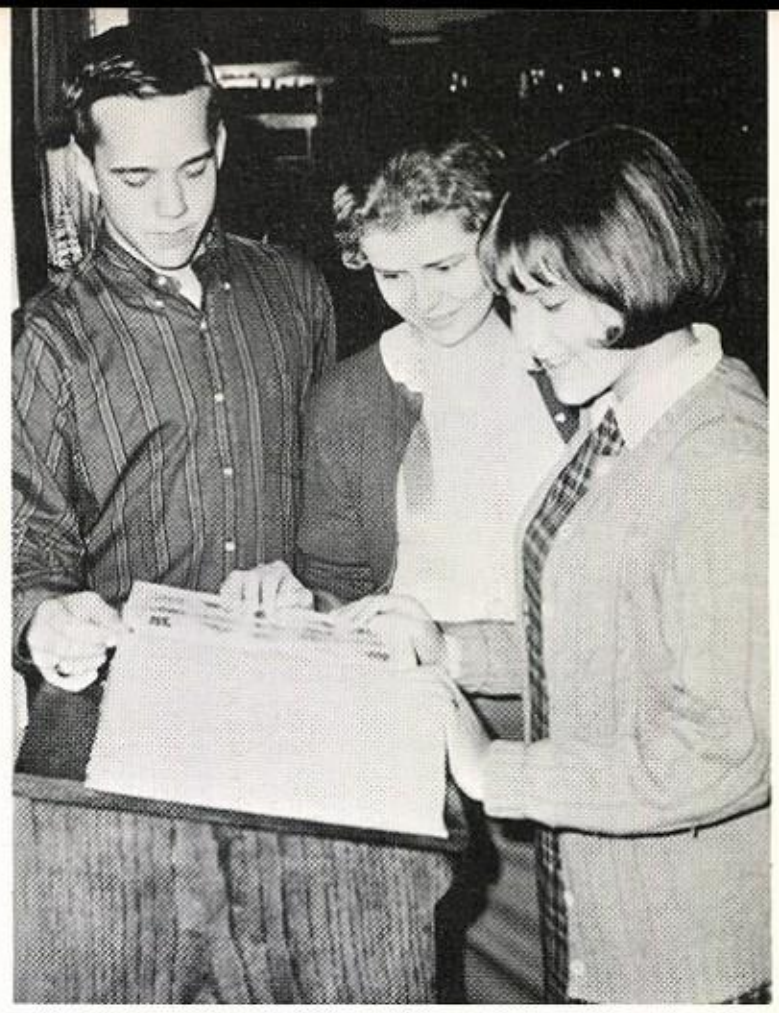
Judy Jerrom from Essex, England and Jan Mattsson from Stockholm, Sweden were the two foreign students living with Highland Park families this year. Judy's interests included sailing, dramatics, and reading. Jan particularly enjoyed playing the jazz banjo and organized a combo which entertained at school events.

Molly Steele spent last summer living with a family in Lima, Peru under the Americans Abroad Program. This year's candidates are Becky Strief and Tim Hight.

"Oh my aching back," moans Jan Mattsson as he and Judy Jerrom practice the latest American dances.

Siberia, Tibet, or India are several of the countries to which Tim Hight and Becky Strief can imagine being sent next summer.

Drama enthusiast Tanda Dykes looks on critically as musician Ann Petty admires the sculpture at the SMU Owen Fine Art Center.



Mike Wood and Pat Dowell, who plan careers in either math or science, receive the help of future librarian Vickie Owen.

NMS Tests Measure Natural Ability, Development

Every year an increasing number of high juniors across the nation take the National Merit Qualifying Tests. These tests, designed to measure natural aptitude and general development, not only recognize the exceptional student, but also indicate strong points and weaknesses of the average student.

From the 305 Hi Park students who took the tests in March, 1965, eight semifinalists were selected by the National Merit board. They were Jim Bower, Fred Carroll, Pat Dowell, Tanda Dykes, Larry Hamric, Vickie Owen, Ann Petty, and Mike Wood. On the basis of their December College Board scores and high school records, all eight semifinalists were chosen as finalists.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation awarded Letters of Commendation to fifteen seniors, including Bobbie Barr, Kathy Bearden, Cary Burton, Barbara Butz, Gary DeLarios, Lila Grafton, Mike Hazel, Susan Northrup, Bob Smiley, Marie Solon, Molly Steele, Gordon Vorhies, Melissa Waldron, Charles Watkins, and Marsha Winborn.

With the help of Senior Counselor Miss Lacy, Larry Hamric and Jim Bower investigate outstanding law schools throughout the country, while Fred Carroll examines the curriculum of various military schools.

School Board Directs Construction of Field House

HP Highlights, a monthly publication about the Highland Park School System, was initiated by the school board this year.

This bulletin, mailed to parents of students, kept the community informed about such school news as the bond-financed million dollar construction program.

After meeting with the architect and approving plans for a new field house and swimming pool, the school board took an active interest in the progress of the construction. Reports were made at each of the monthly meetings on how much work had been done up to that time.

Besides approving new textbooks and appointing new personnel, the seven members of the school board heard reports on all phases of school life. Panels of teachers spoke on aspects of the curriculum at several meetings.

Members of the school board are elected every three years by the patrons of the district. Mr. Frank Monroe presides over the board activities as Superintendent of the Highland Park School System.

C. D. BOWLBY
Principal
Highland Park High School

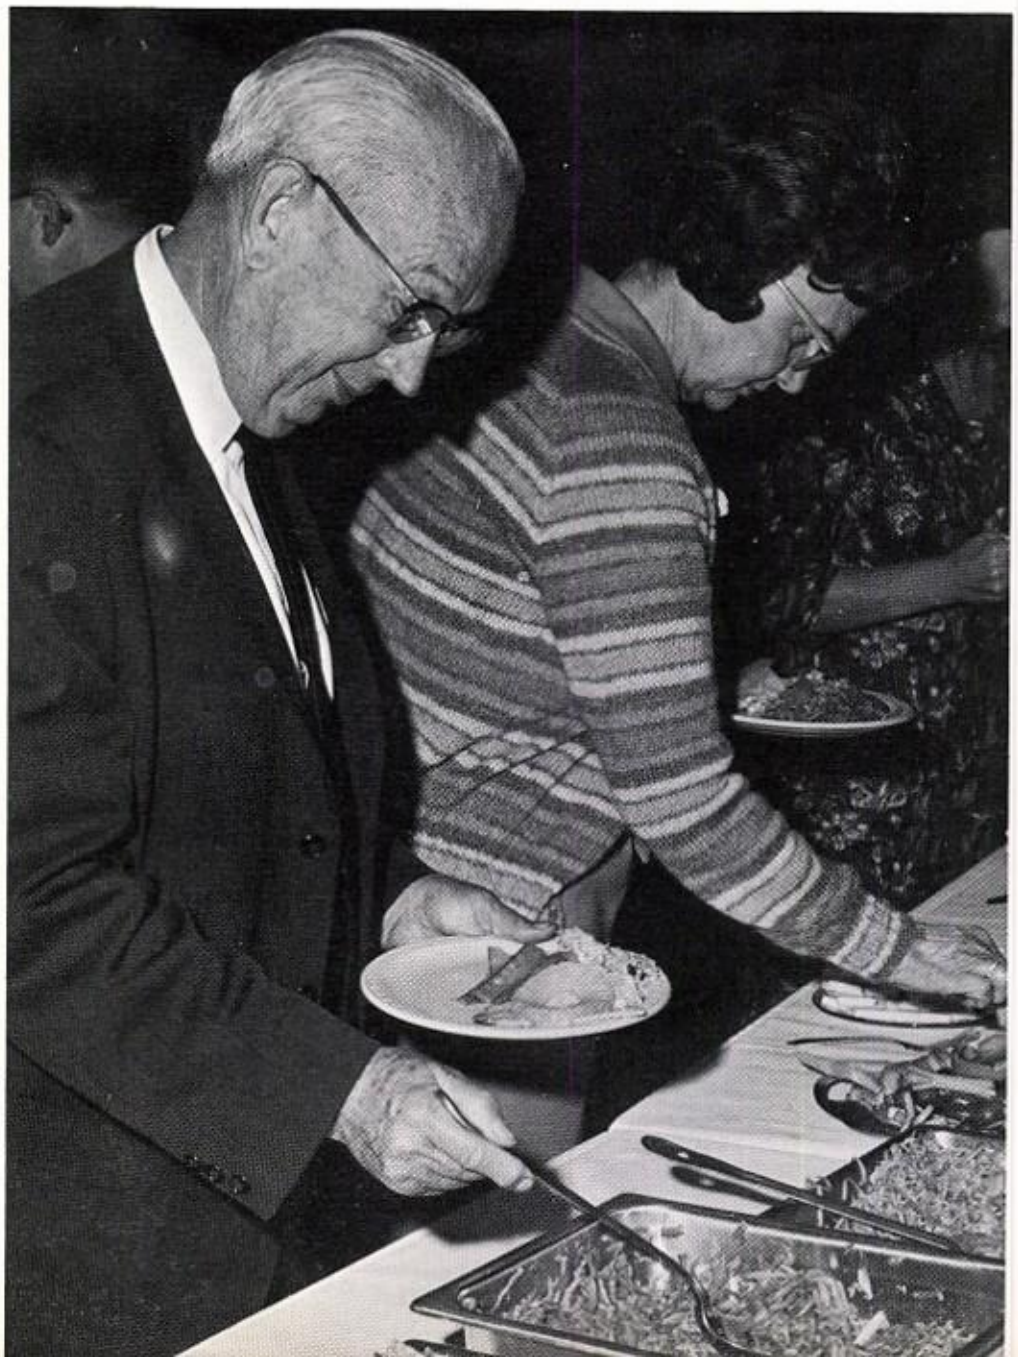
Mr. Bowlby Expresses Faith in Today's Youth

Although students of today have more educational opportunities, and therefore more responsibility, in the opinion of Principal C. D. Bowlby they are basically the same as students 45 years ago.

Mr. Bowlby has developed a great faith in young people during his career in education, which has spanned two generations. Stressing the positive, he says that a lot of criticism directed at youth today applies only to a small percentage, whereas the great majority have fine potential and ambition.

Mr. Bowlby, who received his B.A. at North Texas and his M.A. at SMU, entered the Highland Park School System 36 years ago as a government and economics teacher and later served as vice-principal.

This year with pride he took part in the school building project, development of a new curriculum guide, and a year of school evaluation and critical self-study which was climaxed by evaluations of the Texas Education Agency and the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.



Mr. and Mrs. Bowlby serve their plates at the luau given by the Classroom Teachers Association.

Mr. Howard sorts scores of data processed report cards.

Data Processing Adds to Duties of Administrators

F. D. RUTLEDGE
Vice-Principal

Installation of a modern data processing grading system added a new duty to the many responsibilities of Assistant to the Principal Walter R. Howard.

Serving on a committee to study the benefits and drawbacks of the system, Mr. Howard examined equipment and visited other schools using data-processed report cards. The machines recorded grades, sorted and alphabetized cards, and compiled lists of failures and honor roll students. They cut down the number of mistakes and allowed teachers more time in the classroom. When Mr. Howard was not working with schedules of report cards, he enjoyed working with students on Round Table and the Student Council.

To be ready to meet any need where immediate action is necessary is the general definition of the duties of Vice-Principal F. D. Rutledge. His responsibilities range from direction of custodial services to daily attendance and student discipline.

Last summer and this spring Mr. Rutledge did graduate work in secondary education at SMU, where he studied various courses on running a high school.

Mr. Bowlby and Dad's Club President Mr. John P. Koons discuss the current adoption of text books for 1965-66.

Teachers Study Abroad Through Dad's Club Fund

University of Oslo, University of Arkansas, SMU, and the National Orchestra Camp at Interlochen, Michigan were just a few of the colleges and workshops which Hi Park teachers attended last summer to broaden their knowledge in their teaching fields.

Sponsored by the Dad's Club educational fund, 24 teachers in the Highland Park School system studied courses ranging from modern math to literature and book selection. About 25 per cent of the club's receipts are allotted to this fund each year.

To acquaint parents with high school activities, the P-TA featured programs by school organizations such as the orchestra, the ROTC drill team, and the American Field Service. The P-TA Board, which consists of mothers representing every organization in the school, met once a month to discuss methods of boosting school support of each group.

Hi Park System Undergoes Complete Evaluation

Highland Park is a progressive school system, according to Dr. John O. Rodgers, chairman of the committee which evaluated the Highland Park system last fall.

The report listed both commendable features and recommendations for improvement in each department. A feature that stood out in all departments was the excellent work done by teachers to stay up with new advancements and knowledge and to use it to improve their classes. The excellent attitude and high goals of the students were also noted. A common recommendation was for the teachers and students never to be satisfied with their current good work, but to try to improve it.

On October 24-27 the team of 38 outstanding educators visited the classroom of each teacher in the system. Under the leadership of Dr. John O. Rodgers, associate dean of the College of Education at the University of Texas, evaluators also reviewed the staff, facilities, and community resources.

HP Faculty Spends Leisure Time Pursuing Hobbies

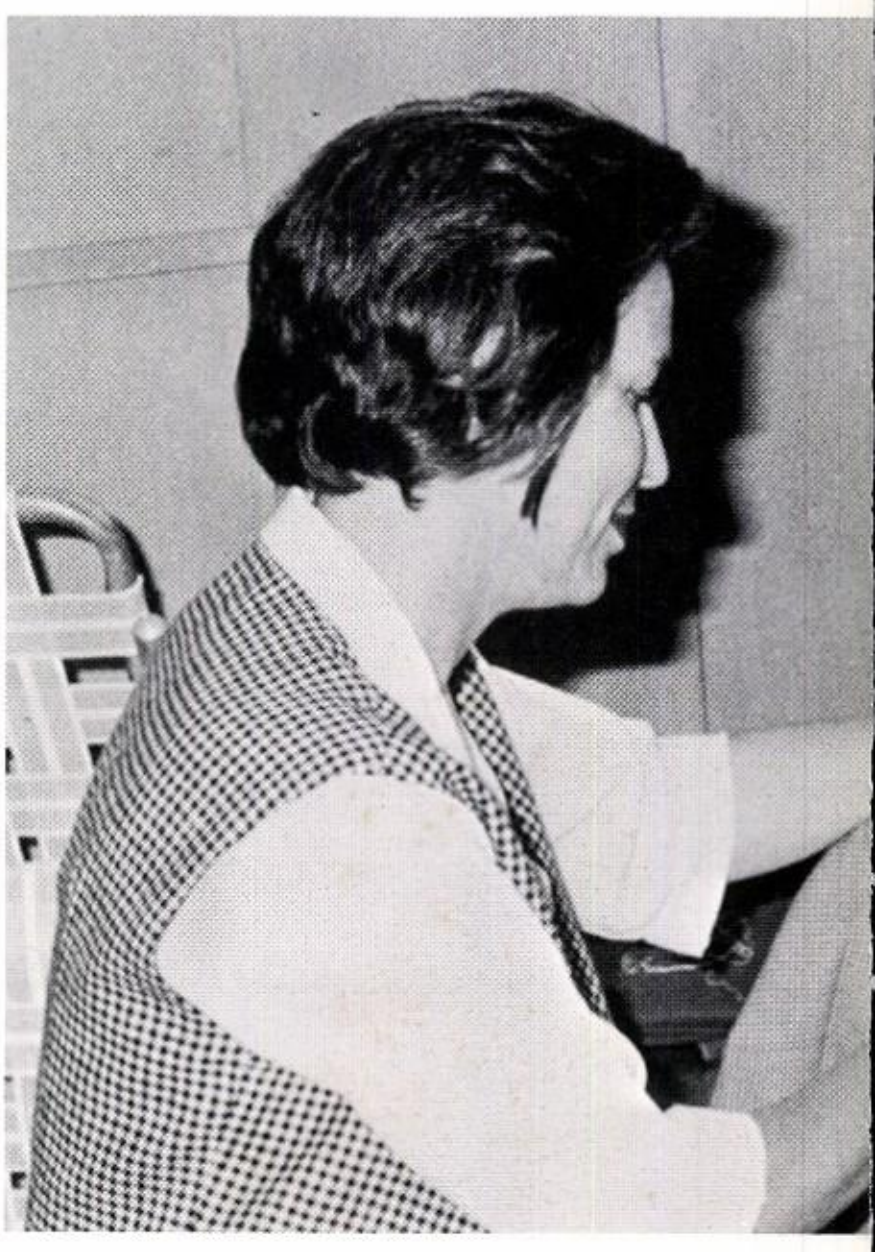
Miss Carol Malone finds that Shakespeare's quotation "Double, double, toil and trouble," applies to cooking.

During leisure hours many Hi Park teachers could be found with paint brush, travelogue, or fishing pole in hand as they pursued their favorite hobbies.

Mrs. Mattie Childress devoted much of her spare time to non-objective and abstract oil painting. Mrs. Ogden Kidd preferred painting floral designs on china.

With the coming of summer Hi Park teachers scatter in every direction. Last year Miss Mary Stewart viewed the rugged scenery of Alaska from Mt. McKinley to Anchorage, while Miss Eileen Steensen toured the stately Greek ruins. Miss Kay Combs travelled through Central America and Mexico.

Gardening was a favorite activity of Mrs. Margaret Sauer and Mr. Ogden Kidd, who took advantage of beautiful fall weather to be outdoors. Many faculty members, including Mr. William Dabney, Mr. Ernest Kennedy, and Mr. F. D. Rutledge, enjoyed pursuing the relaxing sport of fishing.



Mrs. Jewell Hodge sews diligently on a new suit.

In the fall Mr. James Franklin picks and shells the nuts from his own pecan trees.

Mrs. Margaret Sauer takes advantage of good weather to pursue her hobby, gardening.

Seniors Delve Into History of English Literature

Senior English students, after studying the intricacies of Chaucer and Beowulf, harbored doubts as to whether the early English really spoke English! Research into the development of our native tongue somewhat reassured them, however. Progressing further in the history of English literature, students experienced the horror of Macbeth's evil plotting for power in Shakespeare's famous play and developed an increasing respect for the strength and majesty of the English language.

Junior English classes in their studies of early American literature learned about the transition from the basic and factual records compiled by the early colonists to the beginning of creative and imaginative writings by such modern authors as Steinbeck and Hemingway.

Sophomores increased their vocabularies as they studied in detail works by Shakespeare and Dickens. They were encouraged to look for deeper meaning and symbolism in these classes rather than simply reading the surface structure.

The drama and speech classes acquired new recording equipment and extensive additions to their record library. Among these new records were a selection by John Mason Brown concerning three aspects of drama and another of Charles Frankel discussing philosophy.

With a maximum enrollment of 20 students, the Advanced Placement English class studied the use of expository and critical writing.

Miss Maud Anderson counts the number of reading workbooks that she will need for her next class.

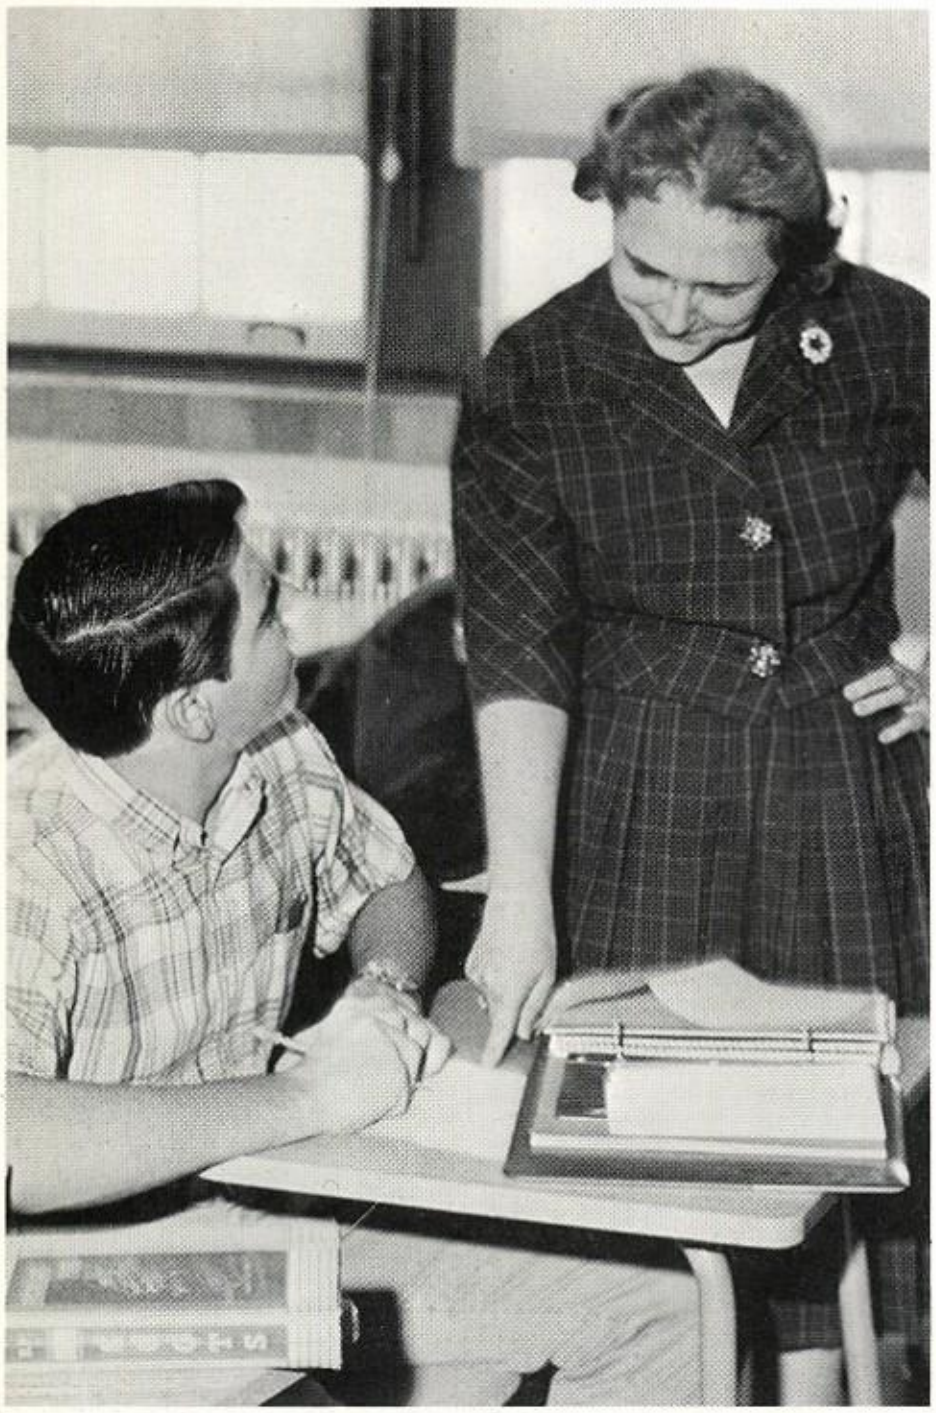
Miss Gladys Sitz vigorously emphasizes the importance of grammar to her sophomore students.



Doug Horn looks up quizzically as Miss Mary Neaves tries to explain a difficult geometry problem.

"Find the moment of inertia of a solid homogenous sphere about a diameter." Baffling problems such as this introduced senior advanced placement math students to their first college work, a year of calculus.

In their sophomore year interested students apply for the advanced course. After screening by a teachers' committee according to interest and ability in math, students register for Math 5Y and 7Y. To prepare for the study of calculus they cover geometry, trigonometry and elementary functions in their junior year. This year the enrollment increased from 15 to 22 students.

While advanced placement classes were striving to understand and apply the principles of calculus, other fourth year math classes studied Math 8 and 8X, college preparatory courses dealing with elementary functions, matrix algebra and circular functions.

This spring Hi Park's math department placed high in two math contests. A team of two represented the school at the Hockaday Math Contest, which included selected schools from three states. Advanced math students took tests offered throughout the United States and Canada by the Society of Actuaries and the Mathematical Association of America.

Students Make Original Projects for Science Fair

Does the "scientific approach" include climbing a tree in search of choice leaves for a biology collection? Is developing a roll of film taken in physics class part of the scientific method? Does it also involve placing a candle under a tube of collected hydrogen and hearing a resounding pop? All of these activities help Hi Park students to learn basic scientific principles through independent research.

At the annual P-TA Open House in March many Hi Park students displayed their projects for the Science Fair. At the end of March juniors studying science had a chance to apply for special summer courses offered at colleges all over the country.

New textbooks, complete with detailed diagrams and helpful color illustrations, were assigned to this year's biologists. Although biology is taken principally by sophomores, more juniors selected it than in past years.

This year's chemistry students were required to carry a research project either in the laboratory or in the library. Many projects were entered in the National Science Fair.

Current Events, Films Supplement History Course

As much United States history has been made since World War II as any time before.

Because of these recent developments, Highland Park has divided American history into H7, which includes the role of American industry in government, and H8, which emphasizes the United States in world affairs since 1945.

Hi Park history students supplemented their study with current events, term themes, book reports, and films. Key Club members offered a series of presentations on topics such as American traditions and the war in Viet Nam.

The effectiveness of the Highland Park social studies program is proved by results of national tests. In social studies vocabulary, information, and study skills Hi Park sophomores ranked above the national eleventh grade scores of college preparatory schools on the Metropolitan Achievement Tests.

Although some students took world history in the ninth grade, others enrolled for the course at Senior High. All graduates were required to study one year of American history and a semester of government. Many chose economics as a one-semester elective.

While government classes delved into the workings of a democracy, tracing the development of American government as far back as Alfred the Great, economics classes examined various types of economic systems. They also studied the American system in detail, covering consumption, production, trade, exchange, and banking. While studying how a commercial bank operates, classes toured the Texas Bank and Trust on a November field trip.

Latin Students Locate, Identify Ancient Buildings

Do you know what the Coliseum looked like in Caesar's time or why the temple of Vesta is circular? Third year Latin students do. Besides studying Roman culture and customs, these students learn to locate and identify the famous buildings of ancient Rome.

Hi Park students learn modern languages in much the same way they originally learned English. They first hear, then speak, read, and finally write Spanish and French. They hear and mimic tapes in the language lab and in the classroom concentrate on reading and writing the foreign tongue.

After learning the fundamentals of a language, students use their skill to present skits based on their reading. Spanish 5 students this year presented their original rendition of a melodramatic novelette, complete with scenery and costumes, to the Spanish Club.

Before the Christmas holidays language students throughout Hi Park could be heard singing carols in French, Spanish, and Latin. In some classes even football cheers were delivered in the foreign language.

Woodshop Students Apply Math, Science to Work

Piece by piece—from detailed planning to tedious shaping with saws and chisels—woodshop students fashioned gun cabinets, desks, and coffee tables. Finished products were patiently stained, lacquered, and waxed to achieve a professional gloss.

Preparation for the semester-long projects began in the fall when students learned to use shop machines and instruments. With stress on practical application of math and science, they practiced newly-acquired skills.

Striving to establish higher quality home environment, homemaking classes discussed such aspects of home and family life as the relation of nutrition to good health and the importance of good taste in clothing. Applying their study of nutrition, students learned to prepare quick, easy dishes.

While art students sketched and painted their impressions of the world around them, mechanical drawing classes concentrated on a more precise rendering of line and form.

Under the leadership of new choral director Mr. Don Timberlake, the Lads and Lassies choir performed for audiences throughout the city. For the first time members tried out for All-State Choir. One of the main events in the orchestra's year was a joint concert with S.M.U. The band and Lassies under new director Mr. Jesse Stockton spent the fall season preparing half-time shows for football games.

With the addition of several new typewriters, business students learned to type personal and business letters and manuscripts. About 80 per cent of Highland Park's graduates have taken typing during high school.

Mr. W. D. Greer explains architectural plans to mechanical drawing student Monty Fuller.

ROTC Works to Promote Citizenship, Leadership

Tricia Edwards helps Mrs. Gynne Manson in checking the list of volleyball intramural teams.

To promote citizenship and leadership in today's teenagers was the primary purpose of the ROTC this year. Members of the organization carried out the theme by leading two flag-raising ceremonies and by performing routine military drills in their daily classes.

For the first time the ROTC held a fall open house in the armory to demonstrate the use of various weapons and to introduce last year's battalion princesses.

Girls interested in sports participated in intramurals, beginning in the fall with ping-pong, tenniquoits, and basketball. Spring sports included softball and volleyball. The intramurals program provided an opportunity for keen competition and good sportsmanship. Girls outstanding in ability and interest were selected for the Girls' Athletic Association.

Fifteen minutes of daily calisthenics developed strength and coordination and conditioned boys' gym classes for sports such as handball, volleyball, and tumbling.

After six weeks of classroom instruction, driving students began actual "behind-the-wheel" training. Each student was given an opportunity to drive at least every other day.

Counselors Advise Students on College Admissions

Every year Hi Park counselors receive more than ninety letters from colleges requesting permission to send a representative to H.P. Interviews with these representatives afford excellent opportunities for students to learn more about schools of their choice.

Because choosing a college is probably the most important decision of a high school student, Hi Park counselors begin an active guidance program to this aim in the junior year. "Planning Ahead," a manual designed to answer questions about college admission, is distributed to juniors in the spring. Seniors fill out critical self-evaluation sheets.

One of the most important duties of secretaries Miss Mildred Calhoun, Miss Lillian Lee, and Mrs. Katherine Dyer is working with people—faculty, students, and school patrons. Miss Calhoun handles the correspondence and appointments of Mr. Bowlby, while Miss Lee is responsible for sending transcripts to colleges throughout the nation. Mrs. Dyer records daily attendance reports.

Nurses Miss Julia Bartosh and Mrs. Dortha Landon were in charge of health education and also jointly sponsored the Future Nurses Club.

Regular additions of new books to the library are supplemented by contributions to a memorial bookcase. Available to the whole school, this case was originally set up by the Student Council. Hi Park's library subscribes to 126 periodicals and contains 14,000 books, including 2,260 reference books.

Honor Societies Acknowledge Outstanding Abilities;

Candlelight ceremonies and pledges to uphold high standards in all phases of school life installed new members into Highland Park's two honorary organizations, the National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll.

Membership in the National Honor Society was offered to students who were outstanding in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The members, chosen from the high junior, low senior, and high senior classes, must have maintained at least an "A" average for a year before admission.

Under the direction of Miss Mary Hardin, the society sponsored the Blanket Achievement Award and provided ushers for commencement programs.

Supervised by Miss Mary Stewart, the Quill and Scroll, was composed of students who had done outstanding work on one of the publications staffs for at least one semester and was in the upper one-third of his class.

Betsy Watson, Laurie Teeple, Becky Baumgardner, and Tina Van Cronkhite pledge to uphold high standards of journalism at the Quill and Scroll installation.

President Dick Sylvan presents the order of business at a fall Student Council meeting.

Family crests of each of the queen nominees arrayed the gym for "Scotland Scramble," this year's homecoming dance sponsored by the Student Council. The victorious Scots danced to the music of the Outcasts.

This year representatives emphasized the fact that any student has the opportunity to serve on several of the Council's committees. Students and council members together directed the activities of the social, ribbon, and A.F.S. committees.

Council members representing second period classes also sponsored such activities as the sale of ribbons and caravan tickets, publication of the Clan, the Christmas dance, and the Junior-Senior Prom. Morning invocations and lunch blessings were also the responsibility of the council.

Included among the council's numerous projects was the sponsoring of A.F.S. week. At a special assembly exchange students were introduced along with their American families. The sale of A.F.S. friendship bonds was carried on by the council members.

Key Club Members Review Local, World Problems

Key club members strove to acquaint the school and community with the problems of Communism this year by presenting programs on civil disobedience and the Vietnam War.

Major Tano, who has recently returned from Vietnam, related his personal experiences as the head officer of an army base in the Mekong Delta, accompanying his speech with pictures.

The problem of civil disobedience was impressed upon the Key Club as the group viewed films taken of the Watts Riots, which took place in Los Angeles last year. At another program Mr. Kyle Clark, the assistant special agent of the F.B.I. in Dallas, discussed the motives of bank and car thefts occurring throughout the nation.

Sponsored by Mr. Alvin Bishop, the Key Club was made up of boys selected by their teachers on the basis of citizenship.

Travelers, Historians Discuss Ideas, Experiences

Mrs. Mary McCormack, sponsor, discusses Highland Park history with Junior Historical Society officers Beth O'Dell, vice-president, Betty McMahan, treasurer, Diane Sewell, secretary, and Karen Surrey, president.

Book reviews, student speakers and films, offered Highland Park's travel enthusiasts and junior historians opportunities to learn about their particular fields of interest.

The Travel Club featured programs presented by students who had lived or traveled in foreign lands. Fentress Miller presented a program on her life in Bogota, Colombia. Ann Marie Meyer gave a talk on the Orient illustrated by slides of her trip.

Mrs. Elizabeth Peabody, well-known book reviewer, presented the battle of the Alamo to the Junior Historical Society in her review of Lon Tinkle's historical novel, Thirteen Days to Glory.

The Travel Club, sponsored by Mrs. Glennys Johns, and the Junior Historical Society, directed by Mrs. Mary McCormack, jointly sponsored a project to finance graduation expenses of the foreign exchange students.

Orchestra Presents Carols at Lighthouse for Blind

Adding a charitable project to a crowded schedule, Hi Park's orchestra made a Yuletide visit to the Lighthouse for the Blind this year to present a medley of Christmas carols.

Other performances of the season included programs at Junior High and the Highland Park elementary schools. On home territory at senior high school they presented their annual fall and spring concerts, and accompanied the Lads and Lassies in the Christmas program and the operetta. Sophomores and juniors played for graduation ceremonies.

Several members of this musical organization, including Susie Scott, Cindy Vornholt, Tommy Waggoner, Pam Washburn, Donna Wiggins, and Julie Yarbrough, were chosen to participate in the All-State Orchestra. To try out for All-State, these students made recordings which were graded by a panel of judges.

The members of the orchestra proved their ability to carry on money-raising projects as well as musical performances. They sold Halloween candy and Christmas fruitcakes. A prize of ten dollars was awarded to Cheryl Brummett for selling over $100 worth of candy. The profit from their sales was used to buy stage decorations for their concerts and to finance the annual spring banquet.

Scots March Daily to Prepare for Fall Season;

Rosie McReynolds, Joanne Meffert, Karen Hall, Suzanne Chadwick, and Bonnie Maiden perform during halftime.

Through a hot August sun, September rain, and chilly October mornings, members of the Scot band marched on the practice field in preparation for the fall season.

Besides performing for Scot assemblies and pep rallies, the band played at each of the elementary schools and for the Dad's Club and P.T.A. An 18-member dance band was organized to enter contests at S.M.U. and at Brownwood, Texas.

For the first time, outstanding senior members who had participated in the band for three years were awarded letter jackets, and senior Lassies received letter sweaters.

Members of the Lassies, the tartan-clad pipers and drummers of the band, were chosen in the ninth grade on the basis of co-ordination and personality. In addition, each member must maintain a "B" average.

Under the direction of Mr. Jesse Stockton, the largest Highland Park band of recent years sponsored a magazine sale to raise funds for new equipment and for its traditional banquet at the end of the year.

Artists Prepare Beautiful Stained Glass Windows

Bits of crimson, sapphire, emerald, and violet-colored glass were fashioned into stained glass windows by the Artists and Artisans last fall.

"Safety first" was the motto followed by the club while handling the glass. After they had broken it into very small pieces, the craftsmen diligently placed the colored glass on scraps of plate glass, forming original designs. This done, they carefully lifted their projects into the kiln and heated them until the glass fused together. The finished products were brilliantly colored semblances of stained glass windows.

Officers Michelle Wilson, Laurie Teeple, and Sharon Lynn were responsible for planning the club programs this year. Mr. Merritt Mauzey, who publishes as well as illustrates books for children in Texas and the Southwest, displayed his lithographing equipment and demonstrated his printing techniques to the Artists and Artisans.

Supervised by Mrs. Mattie Childress, members of the Art Club took several field trips during the year. They visited such places as the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, the Valley House, and Owen Art Center at SMU.

Moira Kane completes her weaving project.

Hi-Lite Members Back Howdy Week Festivities

"New clubs and projects and great fun at parties.... these are the things that make Hi-Lites such fun." With these words sung to the tune of "My Favorite Things," Hi-Lite members began the year at the annual Big Sister-Little Sister Picnic in September.

Hi-Lite members filled classrooms with brightly-colored posters advertising Howdy Week. "Howdy" tags were distributed to all Scots, and apples were given to teachers. Students and teachers alike joined the fun at the Howdy Dance, which climaxed the week.

A new project for the welfare committee this year was assisting at Angels Incorporated, a school for mentally retarded children. Besides taking cookies to the school each week, committee members sponsored a Christmas party for the children.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Grace Parrish, the 600 Hi-Lite members sponsored a Mother-Daughter Tea in October. In December Hi-Lites and their dates were transported to Switzerland for a ski lodge party where they crowned the Abominable Snowman.

"Oh, probably!" exclaims Molly Steele as co-editor Marty LeVelle reminds her the deadline is only a week away.

Wielding rulers, pencils, rough drafts, and reams of notebook paper, Highlander staff members spent countless hours typing copy, cropping pictures, and planning layouts.

Editorial staff members, chosen last spring, were assigned to work on sections for faculty, organizations, sports, and classes. The new staff was responsible for the publication of the summer supplement.

Meanwhile, as the editors interviewed teachers and snapped candid pictures around school, the business staff was busy selling ads and planning publicity posters. When these two tasks were finished, business staff members were in charge of the distribution of the annuals in the spring.

The co-editors unveiled the finished product at the Honors Day Assembly and presented a copy of the book to the 1966 dedicatee. The students received their annuals before spring final examinations, while books were distributed to seniors at the Senior Picnic.

Under the direction of Miss Diane Cook, editorial sponsor, and Mr. Ogden Kidd, business sponsor, the Highlander staff was in charge of the publications staffs' spring picnic, held in May at Bachman Lake.

Business staff members Teri Rogers and Liz Stevenson have difficulty in loading the camera for an ad picture.

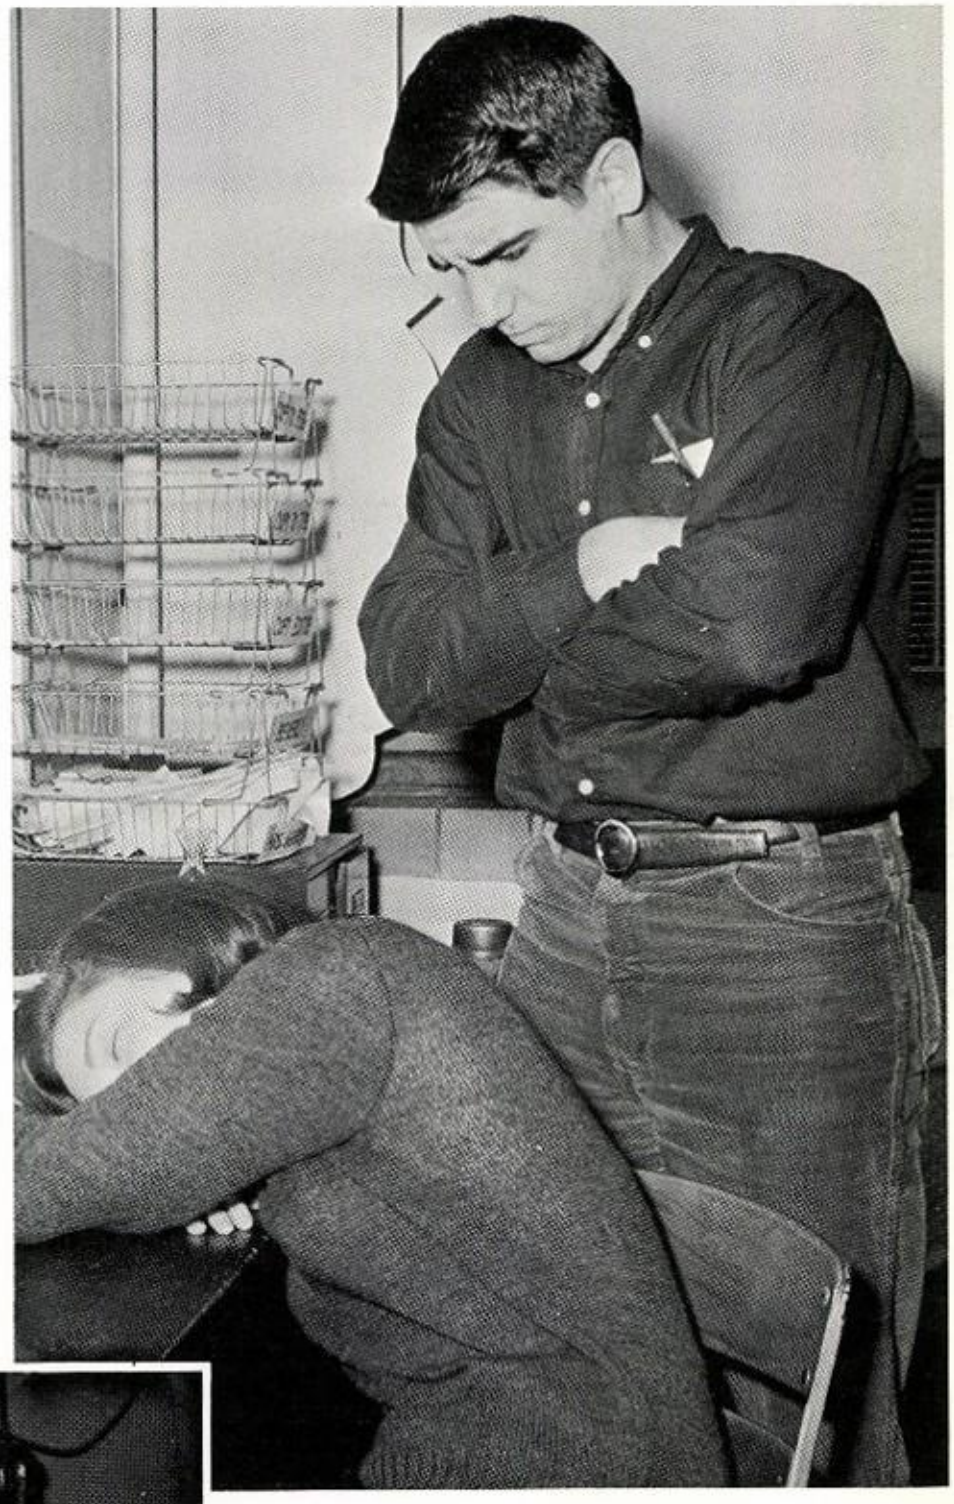
Keeps Scots Up-to-Date on Entertainment Events

Sounds of busy typewriters from the Bagpipe office were especially loud every other Wednesday as members of the Bagpipe staff typed their stories for the newspaper's next publication.

After all copy had been typed and corrected, still another week of labor lay before the staff until the Bagpipe was ready to be put to bed. Their hard work paid off, however, when the Bagpipe won the Texas High School Press Association Award for the best bi-monthly newspaper in Class III.

The business staff was kept busy during the summer as well as winter, selling ads to finance the publication of the Bagpipe. They were also in charge of distributing papers to second period classes and to Junior High.

Under the leadership of a new sponsor, Mrs. Edwin Harrison, the Bagpipe underwent a number of changes this year. Featured in the newspaper were artistic photographic layouts and double sports pages. Critiques on events such as the movie Thunderball and the Dallas appearance of the Rolling Stones' combo kept Scots well-informed on current happenings in the field of entertainment.



Doug Horn gives Editor Beverly Kuykendall a disapproving glare as he catches her sleeping on the job.

Business Manager Betsy Wagner and Proofreader Mike Hazel draw up layouts for the next edition of the Bagpipe.

Club Uses Ham Radio to Reach Foreign Countries

Siberia, New Hebrides, Ghana, New Zealand! These are some of the countries which members of the Amateur Electronics Club have reached through their short wave radio system.

Although operators of the club's ham radio station W5EUZ have communicated with hams from many other countries, they have had little trouble with the language barrier, as English is used by operators the world over.

While radio continued to be a chief interest of the organization, this year the club's members changed its name from the Radio Club to the Amateur Electronics Club and extended its purpose to include study in many fields of electronics.

Guest speakers from such places as Ling Temco Vought and Texas Instruments spoke to the club about transistors and ultrasonic sound. Demonstrations of electronic diagrams and the theory concerning an antenna's transmitting and receiving power were also given. Sponsored by Mr. L. M. Evans, club members themselves led some discussions on projects they had constructed during the year.

"Do you think we've reached someone?" Henry Kearney asks Chuck Watkins, checking new equipment.

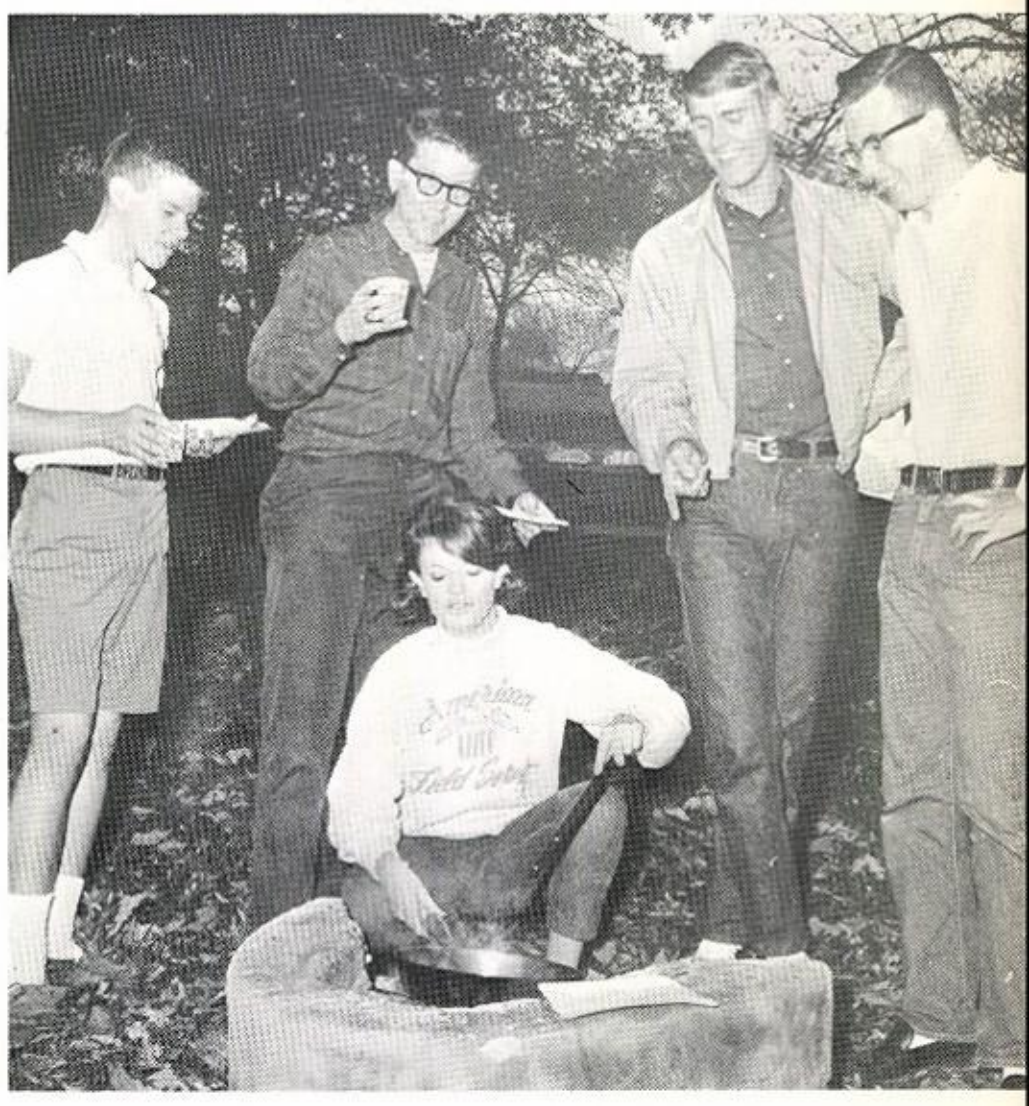
Round Table Members Discuss Merits of Honor

Primitive Eskimo sketches, modern sculpture, and paintings greeted Round Table members as they toured the new Owen Fine Arts Center at S.M.U. in November.

At their regular meetings on the first and third Tuesdays of the month, during the fall members discussed the topic of honor and its influence in literature, religion, politics, international affairs, and everyday school life. The group voted to spend any fifth Tuesday touring places of interest around Dallas.

Interested students submitted letters of application for membership in the fall. New members were accepted on the basis of grades, potential, enthusiasm, and teacher recommendations. The group tried to maintain in its membership a representative of each class and a balance in the religious groups represented.

Under the supervision of Mr. Walter Howard and Miss Helen Moore, the group also planned two social events, an early-morning cook-out and a dinner.



Judy Jerrom cooks bacon with the advice of Mike Mims, Barry Brooks, Steve Burton, and Doug Coldwell at Round Table's fall picnic breakfast.

Nurses, Teachers Explore Opportunities in Careers

Firsthand observation of careers in education and nursing highlighted activities of the Future Nurses' and Future Teachers' Clubs.

Senior members of Future Teachers spent a day during the spring semester observing techniques of teaching on the grade-school level. By visiting classrooms at the Highland Park elementary schools, the girls observed some of the frustrating as well as the happier moments of teaching.

Regular meetings featured a discussion by Hi Park's A.F.S. students on schools abroad, a talk by S.M.U. student-teachers, and a panel of Hi-Park teachers including Mrs. Dorothy Layne, Mr. John Hanscom, and Mr. Don Presley concerning careers in teaching.

Because of their interest in mental health, the Future Nurse's Club chose a tour of the State Mental Hospital at Terrell for their main project. Nursing students showed them methods of group therapy and explained the various occupations designed to rehabilitate the patients.

Monthly programs of Future Nurses informed members on the many aspects to the field of nursing through films and speakers.

Lads, Lassies Boost Treasury With Sale of Cards

Officers J. Yarbrough, vice-president, J. Dealey, librarian, L. Satterfield, recording secretary, and J. Kirk, head librarian, practice for All-State Choir try-outs.

Buried under piles of Christmas cards and wrapping paper, the Lads and Lassies business managers spent hours sorting out and tying up the boxes of cards belonging to each salesman.

Strains of "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" drifted from the chorus room as several members of the choir practiced for the All-State tryouts held in November and January. The applicants, the first from Highland Park to participate in the All-State tryouts, were required to memorize selected songs by which the judges tested their singing techniques. Participants were also judged on their sight-reading and pitch accuracy.

In addition to performing in the school auditorium at the Christmas Assembly December 21, the Lads and Lassies set the halls ringing with Christmas carols at Baylor, Methodist, and St. Paul's hospitals as the choir members took part in their annual caroling party.

Under the direction of Mr. Donald Timberlake, the Lads and Lassies filled the spring semester with preparations for the musical "Oklahoma!" To end the year on a high note, members of the choir treated themselves to a banquet in April and on May 20 honored the graduating seniors at the Senior Assembly.

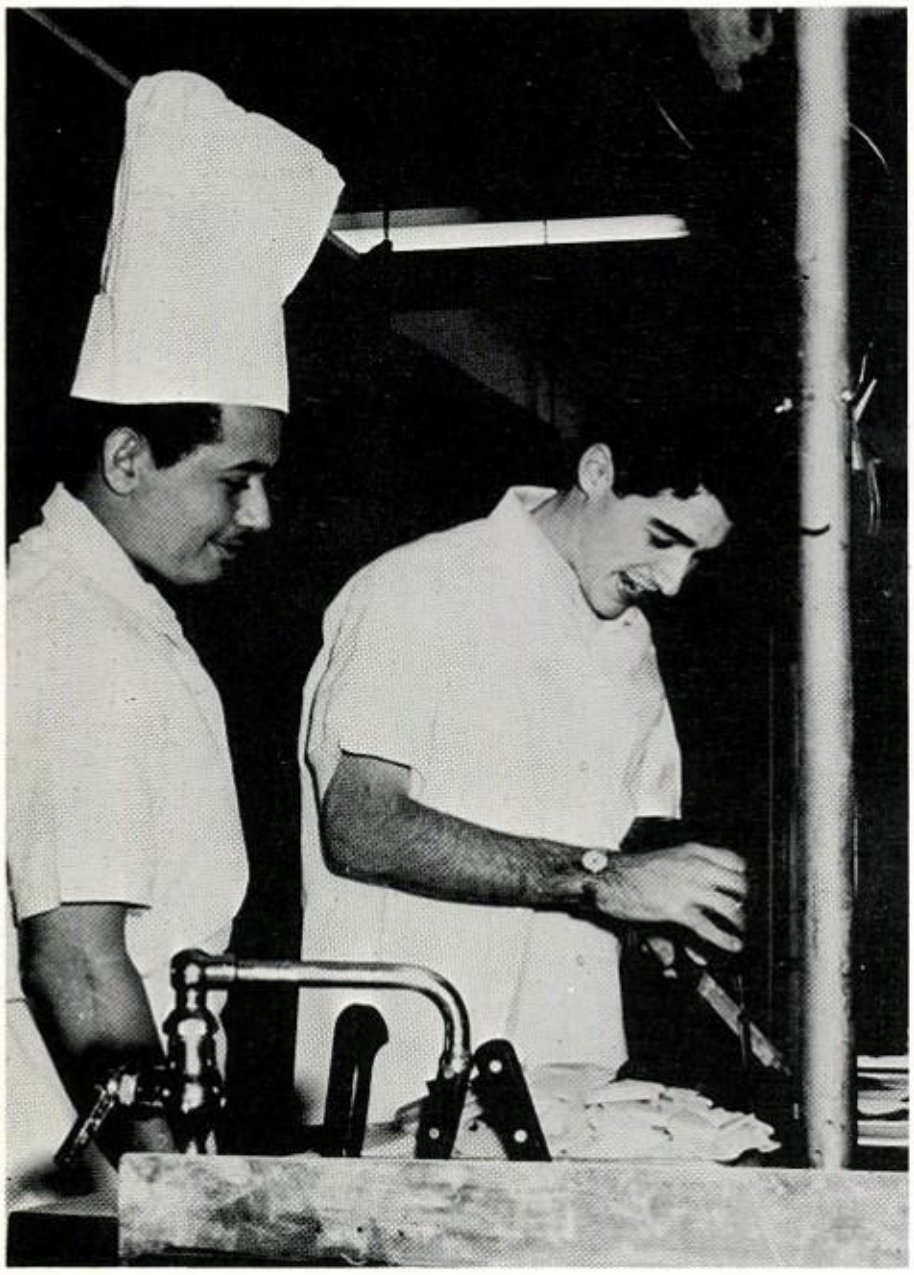
Club Learns Cooking Secrets, Fencing Techniques



French Club members' appetites were whetted as gourmet David Wade gave members advice about the preparation of popular French cuisine. Members then treated themselves to their own French cooking at the progressive dinner held in the spring.

En garde, thrust, and parry were terms used by Monsieur Daniel Nevot during a fencing demonstration presented to the French Club. M. Nevot, a French teacher at St. Mark's, and Mr. John J. Pierce, Highland Park physics teacher, engaged foils, and the two exhibited their skills at this classic sport.

Mrs. R. O. Wilson, a native of France who has two daughters in the French Club, lectured to the group about the everyday customs of the French people.

Sponsored by Miss Eileen Steensen, the club was composed of members who wished to supplement their classroom study of France.

French Club member Nick Ryan puts the secrets of French cooking to practical use.

French Club officers A. Monteith, president, T. Holland, historian, N. Harrington, secretary, S. Keppler, treasurer, L. Boswell, program chairman, Miss Steensen, sponsor, and K. Mallon, program chairman, study a map of France.

Spanish Club officers: Rosie McReynolds, program chairman, Miss Boyd, sponsor, Beverly Morrison, social chairman, Suzy Corgan, secretary, Margie Nancarrow, treasurer, Debbie Nutting, membership chairman, and John Sands, president.

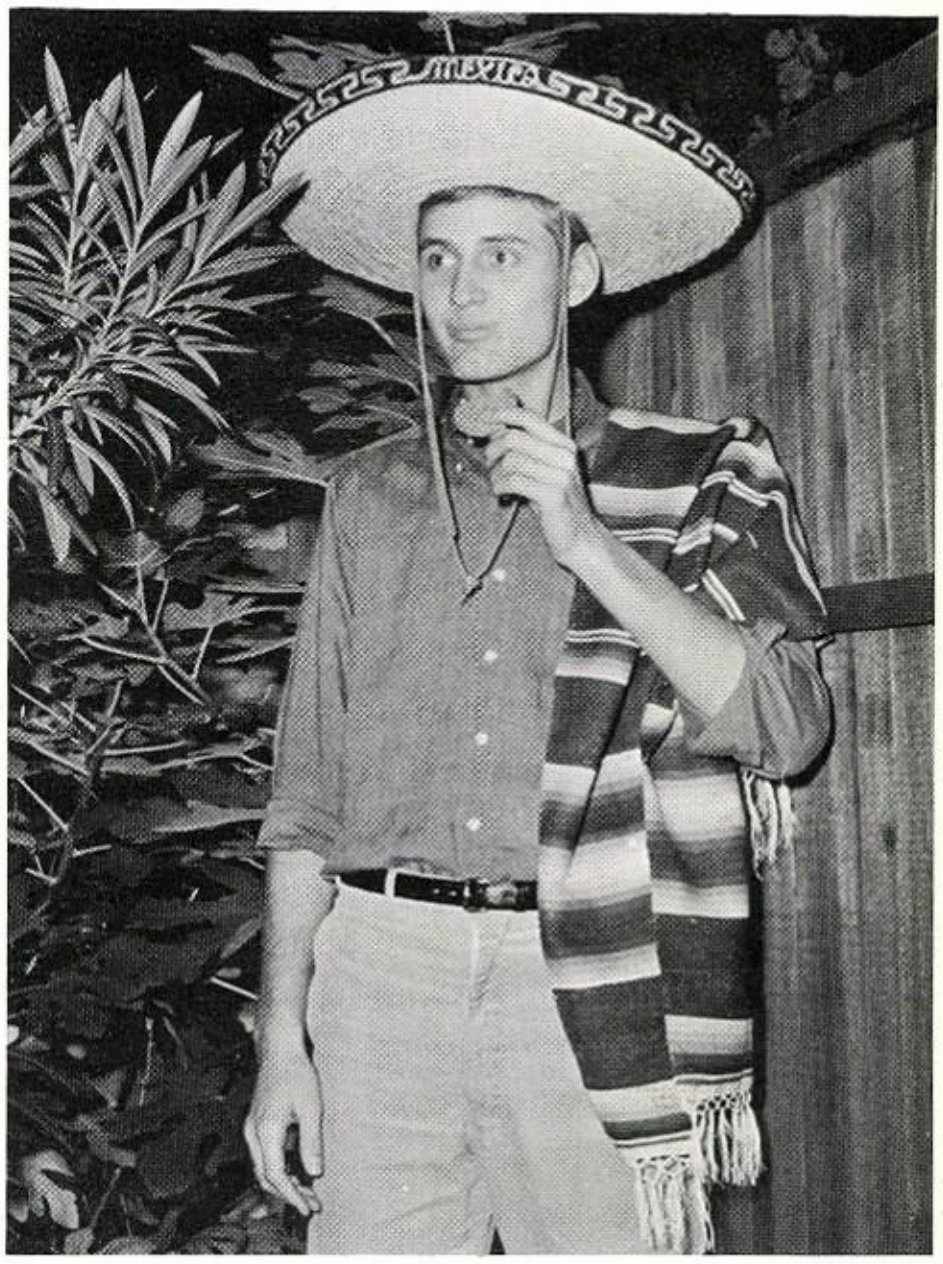
Spanish Club Membership Mounts to All-Time High

When the Spanish Club combined its annual get-acquainted party with a Halloween theme, what could have been more appropriate than a witch piñata?

Boasting the largest membership of any organization in school open to both boys and girls, the Spanish Club began its plans early for offering informative and educational programs to its two-hundred members.

The club's activities are handled by various committees. A program chairman supervised the plans and production of the monthly meetings. An annual scrapbook containing records of the club's activities was the responsibility of another group. A committee to carry out a special welfare project at the Children's Development Center was also designated.

Under the leadership of Miss Lela Boyd, the club sponsored several special events to supplement the regular meetings. In addition to the get-acquainted party in October, the members held a Christmas party and a Valentine dance.



Club member "Geofredo" Burton samples the Spanish menu at the Halloween party.

New Air-Conditioning Refreshes Library Workers

Revived and refreshed by a new air conditioning system in the library, Council members began a year of learning and service.

Besides the tedious tasks of shelving and stamping books, library assistants become acquainted with all phases of library skills and duties. At the bi-monthly meetings of the council the members receive instruction not only in modern library technique, but also in ways to serve the faculty and student body more efficiently.

Under the direction of Mrs. Marguerite Creighton the council chooses its members by application. In addition to maintaining his B average, each member must work in the library one hour daily. During the year each assistant assumes several responsibilities so that at the conclusion of his training he may be proficient in every phase of library work.

Council members Kathy Bearden, Billy Clark, Marie Solon, and Pat Dowell listen as Mrs. Creighton discusses library procedure.

ROTC Princesses Accept Duties, Responsibilities

Bright blue uniforms and the honorary rank of Cadet Colonel were worn with pride and distinction by six ROTC princesses. Nancy Blanton, Pam Cain, Andi Hughes, Susan Northrup, Jeanne Prejean, and Sally Thomas were elected to promote school pride in the corps and the service it renders to our country.

Amid the pageantry and splendor of the Military Ball in February, Susan Northrup was crowned '65-'66 ROTC queen.

In the spring, the princesses' duties included acting as hostesses for the armory during open house, and appearing at the ROTC assembly at Junior High to speak on the pleasures and responsibilities of being an ROTC princess.

Hi Park ROTC members awed Junior High students in April with an impressive display of artillery used in modern warfare. The program was designed to stimulate interest in the corps.

A busy schedule was in store for the corps during the winter months. In December the ROTC hosted the Fourth Division Army Band. February was highlighted by the traditional Military Ball. In March, cadets prepared for Federal Inspection by members of the U.S. Fourth Army.

The drill team activities included participating in the Dallas-Fort Worth Field Day and marching at a Dad's Club meeting. They also performed at basketball games at Junior and Senior High and at a Hi-Lites meeting in November.

Members of the rifle team worked to perfect their marksmanship for rifle competitions such as the Dallas Gallery Match, the Trinity Rifle Match, the Inter-Collegiate Match, and the Arlington State Rifle Competition.

Hi Park Seniors Elect Class Officers, Sponsor

Shortly before the "final" finals of high school, 1966 seniors attended meetings to nominate and elect class officers and sponsor. Nominations were made by written ballot and the top two contenders for each office ran in the election.

President David Bagwell presided at the Honors Day Assembly, Baccalaureate services, and Commencement exercises. Acting as a substitute in case of the absence of the president was the foremost duty of Vice-president Arthur Terry.

Fulfilling the office of secretary was Betty Cotton. Her responsibilities included keeping a social calendar in which she recorded the numerous teas and parties given for prospective graduates. Chris James, treasurer, was responsible for the financial affairs of graduation. Physics teacher John J. Pierce served as the sponsor for the class of 1966.

CROSBY, JOHN MERITT

How do students promote school spirit? The senior boys of the Spirit Committee organized a booster group. This unit wore dark blue shirts and wheat jeans to football games, appearing in force for the first time at the Sherman game and continuing to lend their support to the team throughout the season.

Senior girls showed their appreciation for the team by wearing blue and gold to the Friday morning pep rallies and to the games. Victory slogans taped on the backs of blouses further symbolized their enthusiastic backing of the team.

The results of such a great showing of spirit were inevitable—rousing pep rallies, large attendance at games, and many Scot victories.

When Miss Watkins told her AP English class they would need a wheelbarrow to bring all their books to class, Pete Bartholow wondered if a red wagon would do.

Fall 1966 found many seniors struggling with armloads of extra books, slide rules, and other equipment needed in their advanced placement courses.

Math AP was introduced to H.P. students at the beginning of the junior year. Those interested in advanced placement in college math applied for acceptance in the course. Those selected carried five courses including geometry and trigonometry during their junior year in order to take the AP courses during their senior year. The course consists of calculus and analytic geometry.

Other students interested in extended reading and composition applied for English AP at the end of their junior year. Those accepted began the course in the fall in place of the regular senior English course.

Those students not taking advanced placement courses but interested in doing advanced work in English or math were eligible to apply for Math and English 8X. Like advanced placement English, English 8X gives students an extended reading and composition program. Math 8X gave those interested in math an opportunity to continue their studies.

'65-'66 Finds Hi Park Following Many Fads

Shan Martin, Nan Weintraub, Betsy Wagner, and John Richardson exchange tips on cleaning their saddle oxfords.

"Thud! Crash! Biff! Zlonk!" These were the words repeated by HP students as they imitated their latest television idol, Batman! The costumed hero's ridiculous adventures gave James Bond movies and "The Man from UNCLE" tough competition in keeping students from their homework.

1965-66 was also a year for many changes in styles. Bold, symmetrical lines in dress were accompanied by boots, long, straight hairstyles, and eyebrow length bangs. The "Beatle look" was challenged by such fads as the "granny" dress. Pierced ears, textured stockings, and knee socks were greeted with mixed reactions by the boys.

Not to be outdone, Hi Park boys found new fashions to attract feminine attention. Paisley ties and saddle oxfords, commonly referred to as "rah-rahs," competed with madras, surfer shirts, and weejun loafers.

In "granny" gowns and curlers Sue Cunningham, Liz Stevenson, Betty Cotton, and Nancy Boone jokingly pounce on Donna Guest at a senior girls' slumber party.

Happiness is being a "senior cool"—having spring fever when school begins in September, being through with all the exams of high school at mid-term, and looking forward to graduation and college.

Happiness is being a senior girl and making all seven parties given on one day—and without gaining weight. Coke parties, luncheons, slumber parties, and picnics given for graduating seniors keep the upperclassmen in a constant whirl of activities. Happiness is being a senior boy—spending spring weekends playing football or attending bull sessions.

Happiness is receiving your high school diploma—without tripping up or down the stairs to the stage.

Yes, happiness is being a senior—the envy of the underclassmen. But this happiness is short lived. The senior year soon ends, and the once almighty senior is once again transformed into a lowly freshman—at college.

Seniors Plan for College, Talk to Representatives

Predominant in the minds of seniors is the choice of a college and a future vocation. Beginning early in the fall, seniors talked to college representatives, pored over college catalogs, and visited college campuses.

Several meetings were held to acquaint upperclassmen with the procedures to follow when visiting and applying to colleges. Seniors also received "Planning Ahead" manuals containing self-evaluation forms to be filled out as an aid to students and counselors in determining college plans.

When spring arrived, upperclassmen rushed home after school in hopes of finding a letter of acceptance. This period of waiting and wondering was avoided by some Scots who applied to schools on the early decision plan.

Hi Park's Juniors Review Rules in Revised Kiltie

What makes this year's juniors different? Juniors are joiners!

After a year of exploring the territory at Hi Park, juniors volunteered in every direction. They represented their fellow classmen on the Student Council, served on committees, worked on the Highlander and Bagpipe staffs, and were admitted to the Lads and Lassies Choir. Despite hectic schedules, however, eleventh graders maintained high averages.

Becoming a junior also brought on such added duties as history term themes and English vocational themes. If there were few juniors to be seen running around on Saturday afternoon, vast numbers of them could be found congregating at the libraries.

As spring election time drew near, juniors feverishly worked on perfecting skits, speeches, and yells. While seniors relaxed at parties, juniors began last minute preparations for College Entrance Exams, National Merit Tests, and final examinations.

Tests, New Atmosphere Greet Hi Park Sophomores

Tests, tests and more tests were in store for this year's sophomores from the first moment they stepped in the door of Highland Park High School at Orientation.

After learning about Scot organizations, they were led into the cafeteria for a series of time-consuming, brain-wracking examinations beginning with the Strong Vocational Interest Test. A few weeks later they began the ordeal of deciding whether a certain picture was of the left or right foot when they took the California Mental Maturity Test and the Jones Metropolitan Achievement Test.

"V-I-C-T-O-R-Y is the sophomore battle cry" rang out more loudly than it had in years past as the youngest members of Hi Park's clan gave their full-fledged support to the Golden Avalanche. Several sophomore boys served on the "A" as well as "B" teams. They also represented Hi Park on the basketball, golf, track, tennis, swimming, and baseball teams.

The Hi-Lite picnic and the Howdy Dance oriented sophomores in Scot social life. In October they were given an opportunity to join school clubs. They served on Student Council committees to boost school spirit and support the A.F.S. drive. Spring brought try-outs for Lads and Lassies, preparation for election skits, and application for publication staffs.

1965 was a year of surprises in Highland Park football. The team, smaller in both size and number than most of its predecessors, lacked experience and speed. The surprise was in the way the Scots overcame these handicaps. The team posted a 7-2-1 record and was in the race for the district championship up to the final game of the season.

Several reasons were cited for this unexpectedly good showing. Coaches were able to devote more time to each individual player. Key men came through with championship performances. Also an outstanding effort enabled the team to play "over its head" on many occasions.

Area papers rated the Scots as two-touchdown underdogs to the Paschal Panthers in their first game. The outcome was a surprise to everyone but the team, as Highland Park crushed their Fort Worth opponents 34 to 12. The passing combination of Johnson to Comer sparked for touchdown passes of 27 and 45 yards, and the defense held Paschal scoreless in the first half to key the victory.

Against Grand Prairie in the second game of the season, Hi Park's luck turned from good to bad. Fumbles and pass interceptions smothered the offense, and Grand Prairie led 18 to 14 late in the game. The Scots had to pull off a storybook drive to win, tallying on an eight-yard pass with only 11 seconds left.

Offensive End Deryl Comer stretches for a long pass in the game against Carrollton.

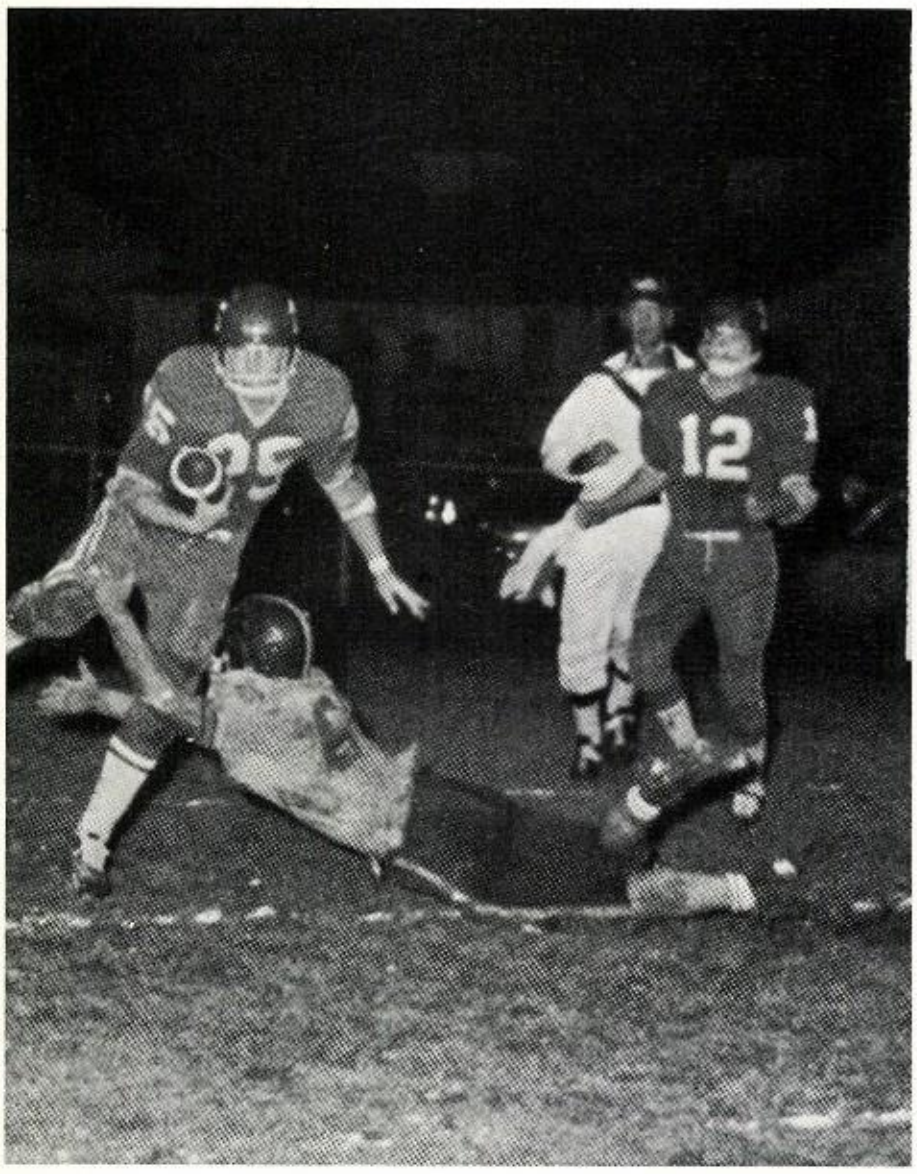
Golden Avalanche Whips Denton Broncos 48 to 7



After an open week of preparation, Highland Park met the highly-rated Denison Yellowjackets in Denison. The first half saw good offensive play on both sides, with the Scots taking the lead 20 to 14. The second half was dominated by the defenses; Denison scoring but once and the Scots not at all. An interception killed the final Scot drive, and the Yellowjackets made an extra point stand up for a 21 to 20 win.

The next team to face the Scots were the Sherman Bearcats who pushed 74 yards to score on the first drive. The Scots came back with a 70-yard drive of their own and from then on it was all Highland Park, as the Scots rolled up 374 offensive yards.

A combination of Hi Park's offense, the most productive in the district this year, and excellent passing by Johnson gave the Scots a 48 to 7 score over Denton.

Highland Park Shuts Out Arch-Rival Garland Owls

The team needed no pep talk to get ready for their annual game with arch-rival Garland. In a defensive battle, Highland Park came out on top, shutting the Owls off the scoreboard 15 to 0. The defensive star of the game for the Scots was safety Jim Crosland, whose two interceptions saved one score and set up another.

Against Mesquite in the most crucial game of the year the Scots played their finest ball but ironically failed to win. The Skeeters appeared to have things well in hand in the first half, but in the final period the Scots came to life behind the running of Rick Sable. Sable scored twice, and Jack Julian's afterpoint kicks gave Highland Park a 14 to 13 edge. Mesquite regained the lead in the game on a touchdown pass. The Scots roared back to score again in the closing moments on a 66-yard pass from Johnson to Comer. The try-for-point was blocked, however, and the Scots had to settle for a 20 to 20 tie.

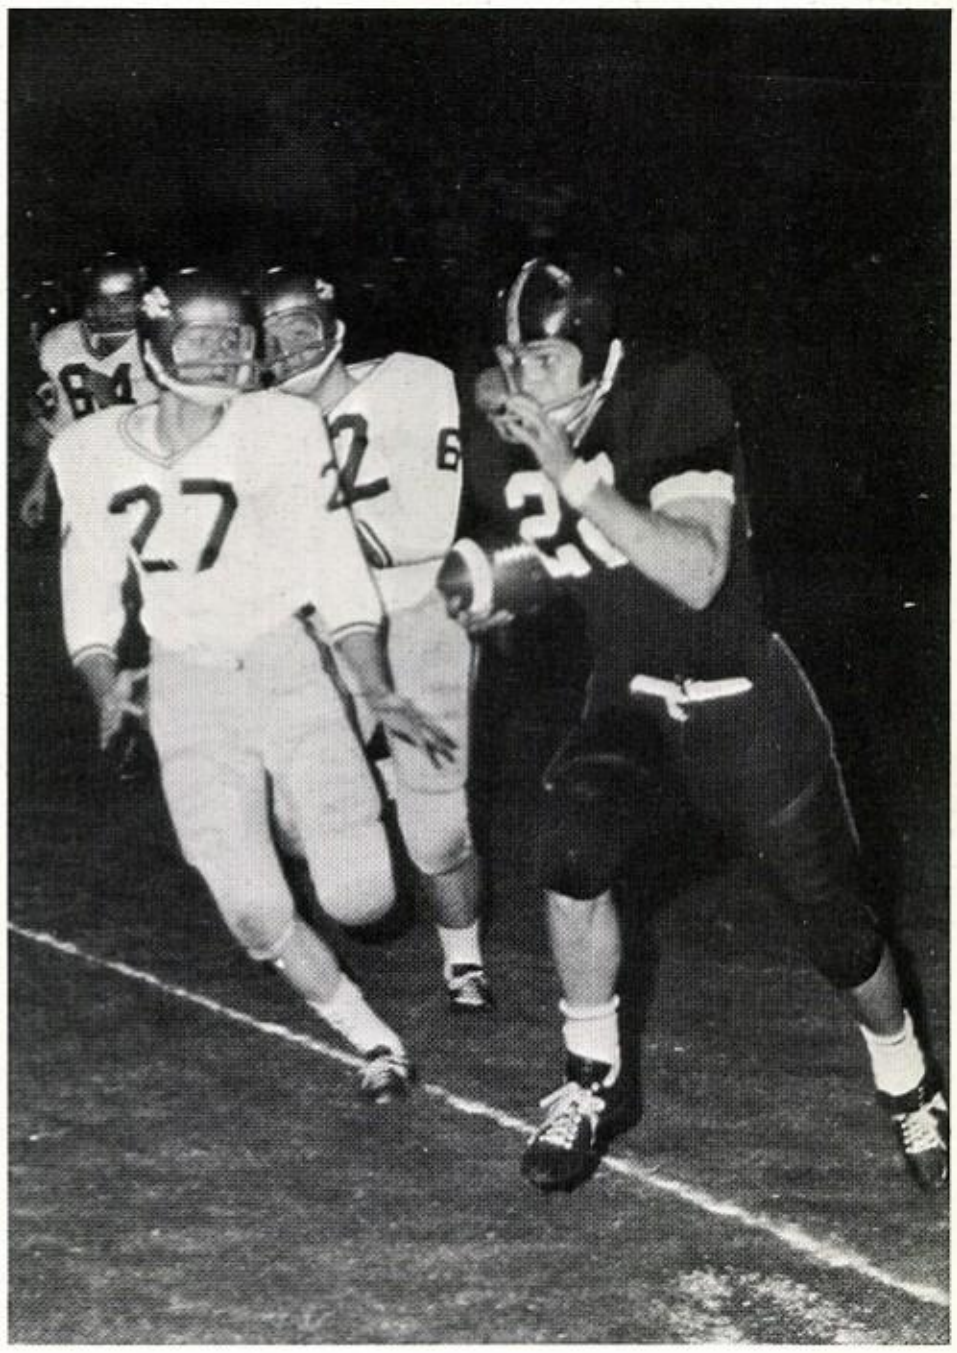
Banquet, New Memorial Awards Close 1965 Season

All-State end Deryl Comer picks up valuable yardage behind the blocking of Tom Heap and Steve Woods.

Fullback Jay Lawrence escapes a Sherman Bearcat as he streaks goalward.

Wingback Steve Fields sprints past three Richardson defenders on a long touchdown run.



Homecoming added extra excitement to the Richardson fray. Scots went into the game looking for revenge, and they got it to the tune of 27 to 14. On the fourth play of the game wingback Steve Fields streaked 56 yards for the score. Highland Park scored a few moments later and the Eagles could never get closer than a touchdown behind.

The Scots made the long trip to Paris for their last out-of-town game. The outclassed Wildcats fell victim to a rugged Scot defense and adequate offense. The final score was 21 to 7.

Carrollton, rated the strongest team in district 7-AAAA by preseason pollsters, looked the part against Highland Park. Dick Farmer played well on defense, coming up with a spectacular interception, but the Lions were too strong and took the game 20 to 7.

At the football banquet the Fight'n'est Scot award, in memory of Walter Beams, was presented to Deryl Comer, and the Most Conscientious Award, in memory of Tim Rushing, was presented to Steve Gossett. Dick Farmer received the Forgotten Lineman award. Jim Crosland and Jim Dyer were named next year's co-captains.

All-District Junior Larry Delzell reaches for a steal in the tense Richardson game.

Scots Compete in South Zone With New Tactics

Spectacular plays, high scoring, and offensive innovations highlighted the season for Hi Park's basketball team. Scot fans were likely to see anything, from a 113-point record score to a game-long stall.

To compensate for the lack of height on this year's squad Coach E. A. Sigler installed a pressing defense and wide-open offense, which were responsible for the crowd-pleasing style of play.

In pre-season play the Scots compile a 9 and 4 record and gained necessary experience preparing for the district games.

A change in the district set-up saw Highland Park playing in the South Zone of district 7-AAAA against Mesquite, Garland, Carrollton, and Richardson.

The team made the trip to Mesquite for the first district game of the year. Highland Park's pressing defense proved the deciding factor in the game, as the Scots pulled away with a 75 to 64 win. Carrollton was the next team to face the Scots, and the dribblers made it two wins in a row by taking a thrilling win in Highlander gym, 54 to 51.

Highland Park journeyed to Richardson for the next district game. Although they played one of their best games, the Scots were unable to contain Richardson's two big postmen and lost 65 to 74.

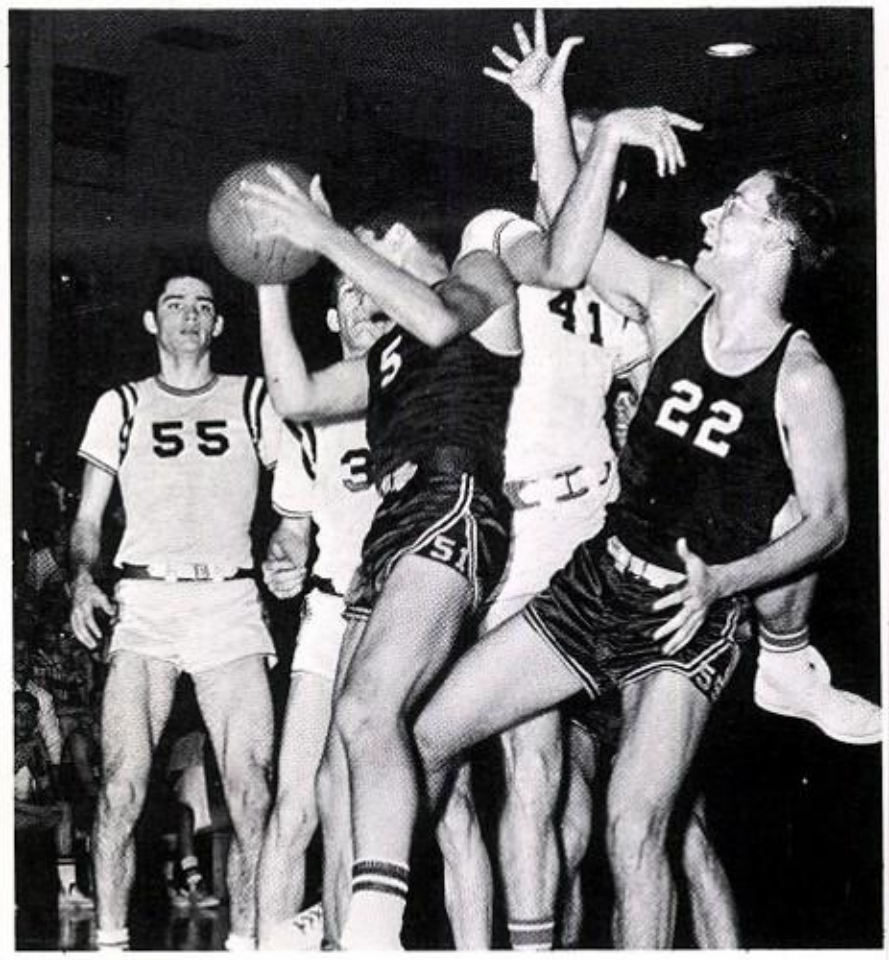
Scots Set New Scoring Record in Mesquite Romp

The Scots played one of their poorest games against Garland, losing by a score of 54 to 73. Going from bad to good, Highland Park had its finest game at home against Mesquite. Hitting a sizzling 70 per cent of shots from the field, the roundballers smashed Mesquite, 113 to 60, setting a new Highland Park scoring record. The second Carrollton game, in Carrollton, was as close as the first, with the Scots winning 65 to 63 on a last-second field goal by Guy Griffeth

Hi Park next met Richardson at home needing a win to stay in the district·race. Using a new stalling offense and a sagging defense the Scots limited Richardson's scoring and had a chance to win until the final seconds when the Eagles put the game away with two one-and-ones. The scores was 37 to 31.

Although eliminated from district competition, Highland Park performed well against Garland in the last game of the season. Playing much the same type of offense as was used against Richardson the week before the Scots tied the score 35 to 35 in the third quarter. The team turned cold and failed to score in the next two and a half minutes, however, and the Owls took the game 51 to 61, and went on to capture the district championship.

Juniors Craig Henderson and Larry Delzell battle for the ball in the Richardson game.



Senior Co-Captain Guy Griffeth goes high for two-points against Richardson.

Hi Park Diamondmen Join Race for District Title

Despite cold, rainy weather, Coach Don Presley opened practice in early February so that ambitious Scot baseballers could prepare for the season's full slate of games.

Pre-district contests, beginning March 1, were scheduled with Hillcrest, Woodrow Wilson, W. T. White, Adamson, and Sunset. District play began when Hi Park met Richardson on April 1.

Co-captains Donnie Johnson, pitcher, and Frank Houseman, second baseman, headed the 1966 Scot diamondmen, who included juniors Larry Delzell, Eric Pfautsch, and sophomore Larry Loper, manning the infield. Junior Bobby Kennedy, catcher, handled things behind the plate, while seniors Steve Freiman and Rusty Ellis, and sophomores Kyle Rote and Todd Roberts provided the outfield strength.

Scots Enter Cross-Country, Attend Local Meets

Early in September Highland Park tracksters began preparation for their first state cross-country competition. In Austin on December 11, Scots Kenny Raggio, Joe Dealey, Carl Foster, and Bob Crum took the first four places, respectively, in the Division III race.

The team, after placing fourth in State Cross-Country, continued its success in area track meets. In the Dallas Indoor Invitational on February 12, Steve Field, running the 60-yard dash and the 300-yard dash, David Meyers, 60-yard dash, and Rush Cone, entering the broad jump, scored valuable points for the Scots.

Led by captain Carl Foster, the cindermen also participated in the Garland and Richardson Invitationals as well as relay meets at Ennis, Carrollton, Irving, and Mesquite.

Under the direction of coaches John Harville and Reed Johnson, the track team concluded the year with entries in the District, Regional, and State track meets.

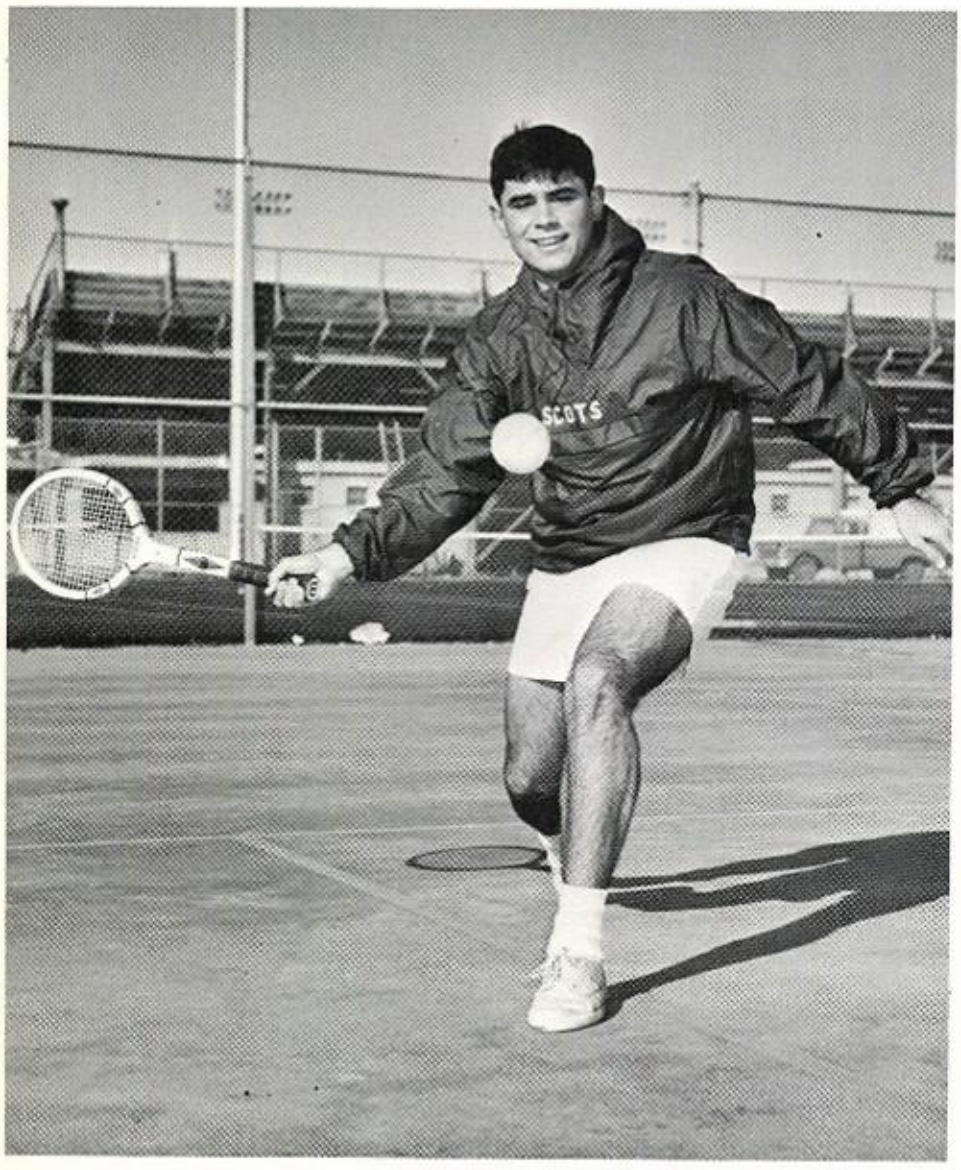
Scot Netters Work Toward Goal of Winning Third



Louis Lebowitz practices a forearm swing.

Placing first in their earliest tournament, the Dallas Invitational, Hi Park netters began the season with the goal of winning a third consecutive district title.

The team began daily practice in the fall during sixth period and after school, continuing as long as weather permitted and resuming in the spring.

Senior Louis Lebowitz placed first in boys' singles. Hi Park won second place in boys' doubles with the team of Robbie Haughton and Lebowitz. Betty Sue Hagerman represented the Scots in girls' singles. Also outstanding on the team were juniors Lindsay Blocher and Lew Grinnan.

Netters participated in matches with several Dallas area schools, among them South Oak Cliff, Paschal, Sherman, Eastern Hills, Tyler, and Arlington Heights, in preparation for district, regional, and state tournaments.

Linksmen Perfect Skills in Early-Season Meets

Chalking up victories over Bryan Adams, 3-0, Garland, 4-0, and Hillcrest, 4-0, Hi Park's golf team set high goals for the season.

Competitive meets began in earnest during March with the Southwest Recreational Meet in Fort Worth. The Wichita Falls Invitational and the Denton, Denison Triangular Meet were also important tournaments for the linksmen.

Composed of two teams, the club sent five players to each meet, where the four best scores were used in determining Highland Park's rating. Captain Bobby Morris together with Gary deLarios, Bob Goldman, Bill McCormack, and Andy Stone made up the first team. The second team was composed of Roy Carter, Guy Casey, Herschell Hodges, Jim Luby, and Judd McCormack.

Scot Swimmers Finish First in Pre-Season Meets

Scot tankers plunged toward the state championship as they took first place in meets against Hillcrest, Wichita Falls, and Midland.

Scots finished second to Memorial of Houston in the Texas Invitational, the most important meet before state. Top performers in the meet were freestylers Fred Lundberg and Ken Ward, breast stroke swimmer Mike Luby, and backstroke champion Warren Barry.

Setting the pace for the team were All-State Captains John Hoopingarner, John Moore, and Mike Titmas. Titmas was also awarded an All-American title for his performance in the freestyle relay last year.

With such encouragement from their outstanding pre-season records, the tankers looked forward to late-season meets against Paschal and the SMU freshmen.

Scots Pat McEvoy (1) and Mike Titmas (4) strain for a good start in the freestyle competition during a meet against Bryan Adams and Hillcrest.

Under New Coach, 'B' Football Posts 6-2 Record

Under new coach Reed Johnson, Highland Park's "B" football team finished the season with a 6-2 season record.

Grand Prairie was the first team on the schedule and the "B" teamers started the season with a 28 to 20 win at the Gopher Bowl. In the next game, at home against Denison, the team recorded a 25 to 0 victory. The "B" team defeated the Sherman Bearcats 24 to 19 in Sherman. Returning home to play Denton did not slow the team down, as they raced by the Broncos 46 to 0.

The "B" teamers suffered their first loss of the season against the undefeated Owls in Garland 20 to 6. Against Mesquite the offense racked up 30 points, but the defense was unable to contain the Skeeters and the squad suffered their second season loss 35 to 30. The team closed out the season with wins over Paris 8 to 6 and Carrollton 53 to 7.

Finishing with a 10-9 season record, "B" team basketballers never lost a game by more than eight points.

They opened the season with wins over Hillcrest and Grand Prairie, and the team participated in the Carrollton Tournament. In the tournament the "B" team lost to first place winner St. Marks, then beat Denison before losing the final game to Thomas Jefferson. Games with North Dallas, Bishop Dunn, Denton, and Paschal closed pre-season play.

The team opened the district race with losses to Mesquite and Carrollton. After a non-district loss to Sherman, they defeated Richardson at Richardson, then lost to Garland. The second half of district play started with wins over Mesquite and Carrollton. A loss to Richardson and a thrilling two-point victory at Garland ended the season.

Frank Schefler was high scorer. Other key players were Bill Tansil, Carruth Gerault, Chris Wallace, Lee Hight, and Kyle Rote.

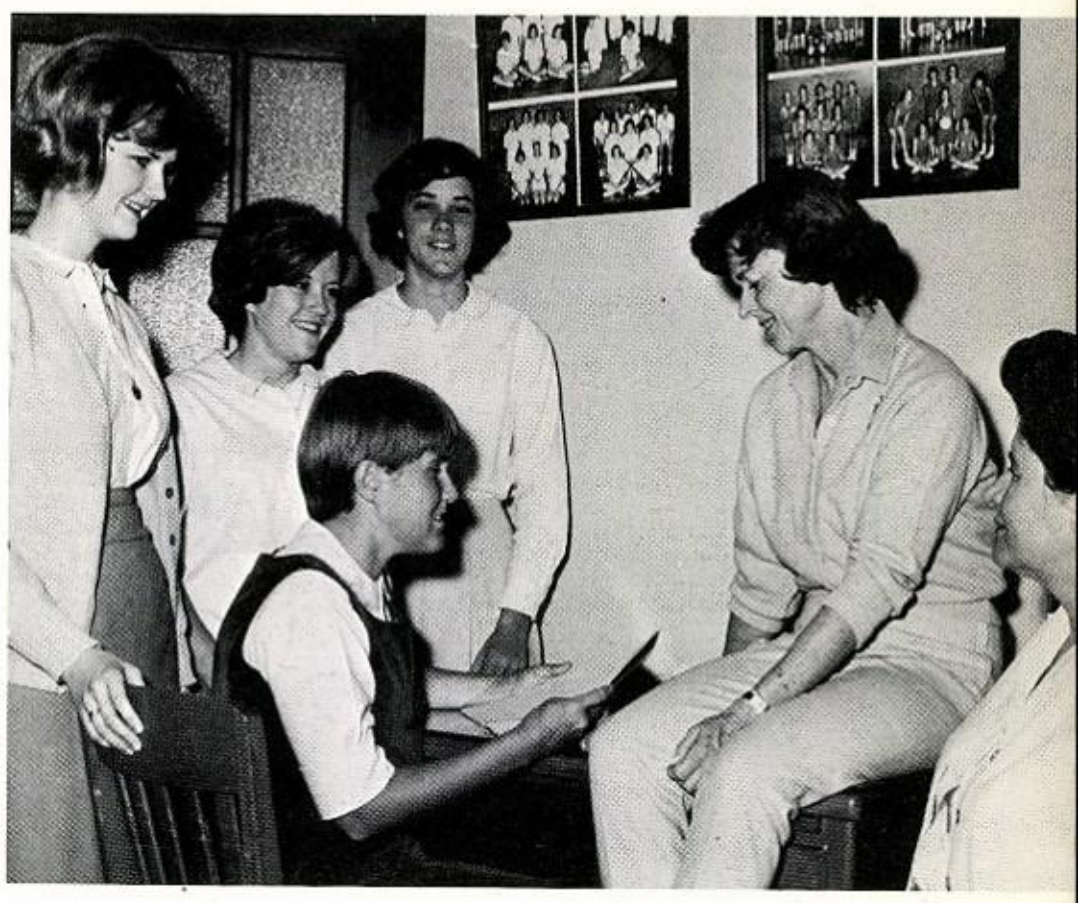
GAA Promotes Athletic Techniques, Sportsmanship

The phrase "practice makes perfect" could be revised to "practice makes a G.A.A. member" when referring to the Girls' Athletic Association. A member may be chosen for outstanding participation and interest in tenniquoits, softball, volleyball, basketball, or swimming.

The members of G.A.A. are selected by Mrs. Gynne Manson and Miss Jayne Murchison from gym classes and intramural sports. After members are awarded patches designating by shape and color the sport and number of years of participation, they are then divided into "Blue" and "Gold" teams. The winner of the play-off game between these two teams is awarded a gold charm.

Meetings are held twice a year to elect officers, to collect dues, and to discuss the group's activities.



G.A.A. Officers, Suzy Corgan, reporter, Betty Sue Hagerman, secretary-treasurer, and Jill Sanford, vice-president, look on as Bobbie Barr, president, and sponsors Miss Jayne Murchison and Mrs. Gynne Manson study plans for the G.A.A. picnic.

Intramurals Encourage Individual, Team Competition

"Basket Bunnies", "009's," and "Green Walkers" may sound like characters out of a new James Bond movie, but actually they are just a few of the names chosen to represent basketball intramural teams this year.

Under Hi Park's intramural program, girls interested in sports organize teams for tenniquoits, basketball, volleyball, and softball. Participation in the Monday-Wednesday or Tuesday-Thursday league offers valuable experiences in teamwork and good sportsmanship, as well as exercise and fun. A play-off game between winners of the two leagues climaxes intramural play in each sport.

Under the direction of Mrs. Gynne Manson and Miss Jayne Murchison several hundred girls participated in the program. Honors awarded at the end of the year include medals for those girls who have taken part in each sport and a luncheon given by the P-TA for girls who have played on winning teams throughout the year.

Girls' Gym Classes Learn Side Bobbing, Jumping,

What sounded like Indian tom-toms summoning a tribal meeting in the girl's gym this fall was really the gym teachers beating out regular rhythms on a drum as the girls participated in their annual exercise program.

Mrs. Manson and Miss Murchison provided rhythm for the exercises to signal the girls when to do each in a series of exercises and the speed at which to do them. Included in these exercises were such physical activities as backbending, marching, jumping, arm flinging, and side bobbing. The purpose of the exercise program, held the first two weeks of school, was to get girls in shape for the rest of the year's athletics by strengthening muscles they had not used for some time. After the first few days many participants could attest the success of the program by their aching arm and leg muscles.

as Construction Work Creates Hazard for Players

With a construction crane hovering above and shouts of workmen in the air, girls' gym classes carried on speedball tournaments during the early fall.

The construction activity on the new field house added excitement and adventure to the tournaments when occasionally the games were interrupted as the crane shifted position, swinging its arm over the playing field.

Construction brought on another hazard for the speedball players. Often as a result of a strong kick the ball landed in the midst of the incomplete building or in one of the holes dug out for the basement.

Inside the gym the excitement was just as great, although not as hazardous, as the girls competed in a tenniquoits tournament. The fall semester was brought to a close by the most popular game of the year—basketball, which has more G.A.A. and intramural participation than any other sport.

Victory Pickles Promote Swimming Team's Spirit

Instead of being rewarded with apples after a victory, the girls' swimming team received victory pickles after they defeated Hockaday and the S.M.U. freshmen in their first varsity meet.

With "Rainbow on Water" as its theme, the water show used colored spotlighting, synchronized swimming, and songs with colorful titles to climax nine weeks of swimming practice. This year the boys' swimming team also participated in such numbers as "Green, Green" and "Goldfinger."

Under the able coaching of Mrs. A. R. Barr, the girls' swimming team, composed of approximately 50 girls, worked out every Monday through Wednesday beginning in the middle of September. Wednesdays saw intramural meets between classes. Thursdays were devoted to improving basic strokes, dives, and synchronized swimming techniques.

THE STAGG RENZ INSURANCE AGENCY

STAGG RENZ, C.L.U., is truly a career, professional insurance agent! At the end of his sophomore year in college — he decided on a career of insurance underwriting. That was in the year 1940. He entered the University of Texas as a Junior — majoring in insurance. Of the some 15,000 students enrolled at the time, only ten were "insurance majors" — and Stagg Renz was one of them! Immediately after the end of WW II, on October 27, 1945, Stagg Renz organized his own Local Agency business in Dallas, Texas. He has attended the Insurance School in Hartford, Connecticut (1946) and subsequently completed a multitude of insurance "short courses" all over Texas. In 1954, he won the coveted Chartered Life Underwriter designation. From the beginning (1945) he has endeavored to serve his clientele as an "Insurance General Practitioner." Operating a true, multiple line insurance agency, representing the best known 'brand" names among American companies, Stagg Renz serves his clients in the best traditions of the American Agency System. "YOU CAN BET ON STAGG RENZ for good insurance service!"

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE!
Texas Policyowners
Prove the Point!

Northwestern Mutual, now in its 109th year, initially started doing business in Texas in 1869.

Thousands of Texas resident policy-owners help prove a point . . . that there is a difference in life insurance companies, and that the difference can be important to a person's life insurance program.

Northwestern Mutual has expressed its faith in the economy of Texas: at the end of 1965, this company had over a quarter of a billion dollars of its assets (about 1/16 of the total) invested in Texas.

If you would like to know more about what Northwestern Mutual's many advantages can mean to you, including unequaled low net cost, 11 consecutive dividend scale increases, excellent investment return and exceptional operating efficiency, just contact your local NML agent.

This is Jeruwati Seman. He's 19. He's never watched television, slept under an electric blanket, and wouldn't know an electric food freezer if he saw one.

And, chances are this college age student in India won't be able to enjoy these things for some time . . . if ever. In his country, electricity is still a luxury. Even though India has tripled its use of electricity in the last ten years, most things are still done by hand. And the standard of living in India, compared to countries who use large amounts of electricity, is still low.

You see, a country's standard of living is closely related to its use of electricity. And the hundreds of millions of people in the entire nation of India use little more electricity than do the people in Dallas!

The abundant supply of low cost electricity in Dallas helps you enjoy a better way of life, every day. Next time you switch on a light or use an electric appliance, remember that much of the world's population still lights with lanterns, and does laundry in a river.

your Southland Life Agent should have been a quarterback!

Maybe he was one. Because if there's anything your man with the "Heart of Gold" can do well, it's call signals. You'll never see him shrink from meeting challenges either. He thrives on them. But that's just the sort of fellow he is. A decision maker. The kind people come to for leadership. That doesn't mean he's going to be campaigning for public office or anything. But you might find him taking the lead as State Director for the Jaycees, or as president of his local church group, or just plain armchair-quarterbacking on the forty yard line at a college football game. Oh, he doesn't always call the right plays (who does?). But there is one game he knows better than anyone else. And that's Life Insurance. Give him a call. Anytime in the next two and a half minutes will do. (He's as near as the Yellow Pages.)

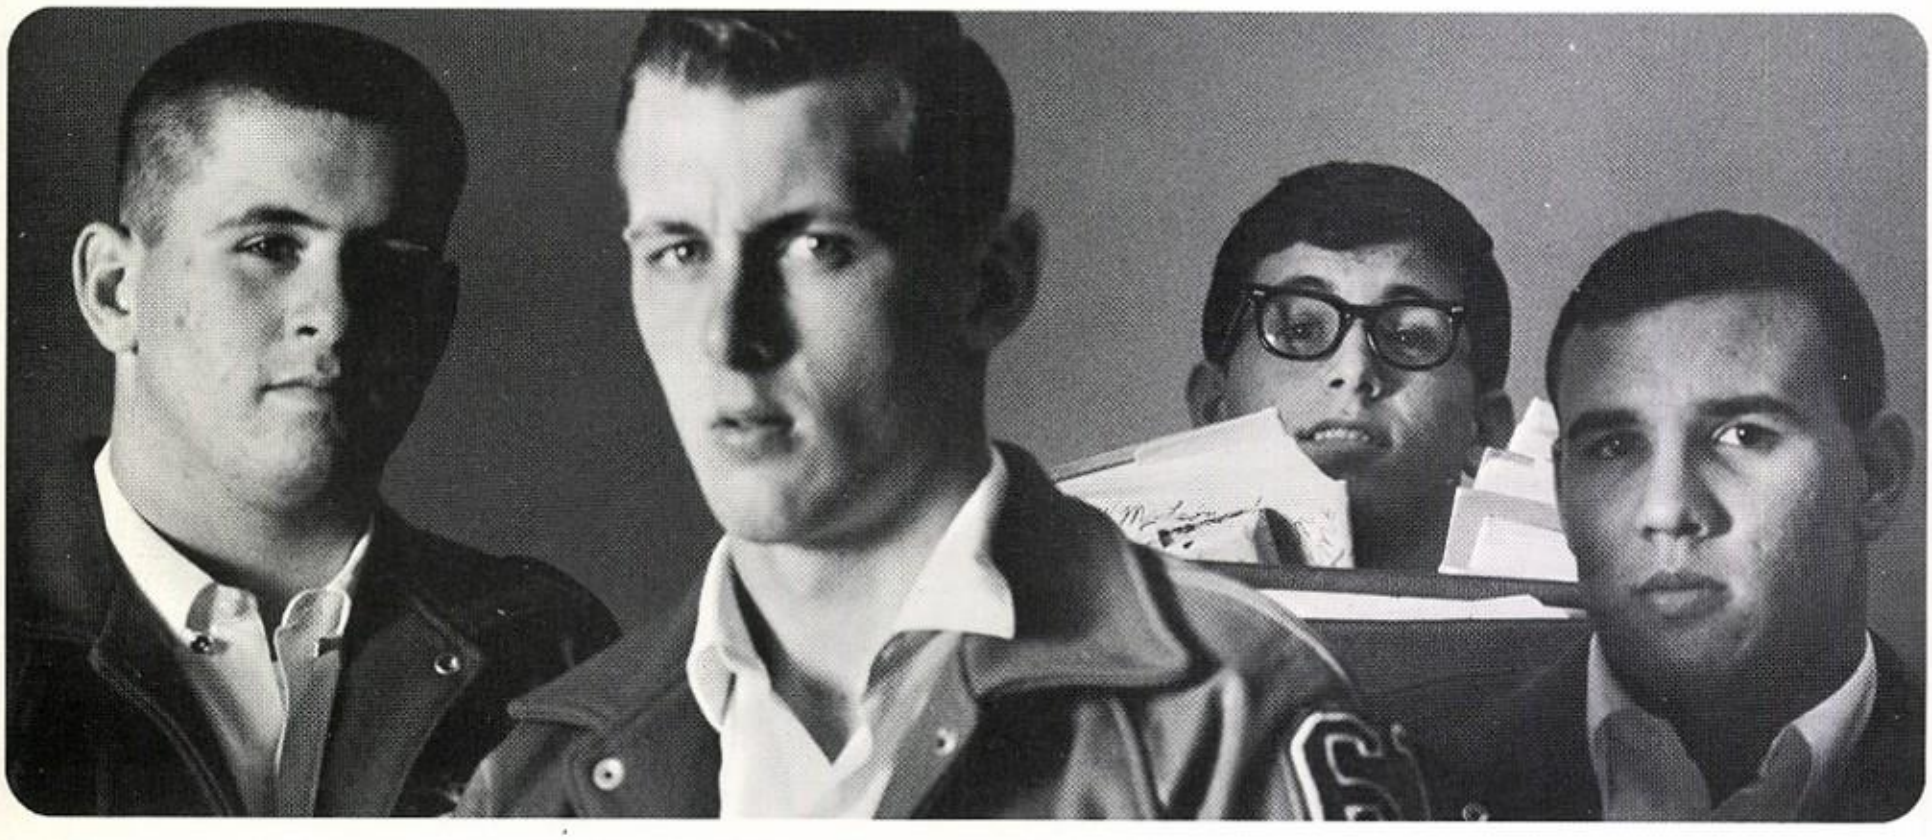
MEN. ENLIST NOW.

FOR THE COLLEGE INN AT NORTH TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY



All right, men. Especially you new men. I'm only going to tell you this once. You're going up to this North Texas State. And it's going to be tough. Real tough. You're going to have classes, tests, books. You're going to need a home base. A place where you can noodle it out. Now men, repeat after me: The College Inn has quiet, private and semi-private rooms and baths. Good chow in its own cafeteria. Carpets on the floor. Maid service. Air conditioning. That's it. Now, you're going to have fun, too. 'Cause there's a big swimming pool. TV lounge. Recreation room with ping-pong and pool tables. Entertainment area. You can stay at this place for as little as $82.50 on their payment plan. And it's only a block from the campus. Okay, men, let's hear it for The College Inn. Dismissed.

Shan Martin and Ralph Jones

Maybe you can't tell it by looking, but Shan and Ralph are in our Brass Lantern Shop in Highland Park. (There are two and a half more). One visit to any of them and you'll know why . . . the very finest in Natural Shoulder Clothing.

The editors would like to extend their appreciation to the many people who have helped in the production of this book: to our staff, to Laughead's and to Gauss Photography. Mr. Don Cantrell, Mr. Jim Boland, and Mr. John Ramsey of Taylor Publishing Company have given valuable assistance. Special thanks go to our sponsors, Miss Diane Cook and Mr. Ogden Kidd.

With a Last Glance . . .

. . . around us, at ourselves, and at each other,
we, Molly, Marty, and Sue,
see these three years at Highland Park
as a time for learning, for growing, and finally for going forth to serve as part of the forward look.
